

ARREST MADE IN MELLETT MURDER

TWO KILLED, ONE HURT IN BANDIT'S RAID ON GARY

Lone Bandit Slain In Pistol Duel With Policeman After Slaying Clerk—Officer Is Expected To Die

GARY, Ind., Sept. 3.—Two men were dead and a third was badly wounded as a result of a shooting during a lone bandit's raid on Gary business houses in the center of the city at midnight last night.

Harry Bolds, the bandit, who attempted to hold up business houses single handed, was killed in the embroglio after a pistol duel from taxicab windows with Policeman Michael Flynn. Bolds had just killed Clerk Costenbolder, a pool room clerk who had refused to open the safe in his office. Flynn was shot through the body. Physicians say he has no chance for recovery.

Bolds, a lake seaman, held up the Broadway Hotel shortly before midnight then attempted his raid on the club pool and billiard rooms, where Costenbolder refused to open the safe. Flynn seeing Bolds leaving the scene of the shooting in a taxicab gave chase through the streets of Gary in a cab he had commandeered. The chase lasted for nine blocks with both firing from windows. Then the cabs stopped and the fire continued as both dodged behind the car's fenders. Flynn fell with a bullet in his side, but fired from the ground and his bullet passed through the robber's body killing him instantly.

SENTENCE ALLEGED FIREBUG TO STATE HOSPITAL FOR LIFE

Man Arrested Near Here Is Adjudged To Be Insane

Mack Wooten, alias Fred Nowell, alias Henry Nauss, alleged firebug, captured near Oldtown recently by Xenia police, must spend the remainder of his life in the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane.

The sentence was imposed Thursday by Judge Harry G. Gram of Clark County, following a hearing of lunacy charges brought against him by Prosecutor O. L. McKinney in an affidavit filed ten days ago.

Wooten is alleged to have been responsible for a number of fires in the rural section of Clark County.

This sentence followed a report of the medical examination conducted by two Clark County physicians and submitted to Judge Gram. Wooten was said in the report to be "mentally deficient and not responsible for his actions."

Wooten's arrest climaxed one of the most unusual cases in the history of the county as the fire damage he caused amounted to thousands of dollars, it is estimated.

His capture was spectacular and followed a man-hunt conducted by the Clark County sheriff and a posse of 150 men through swamps north of Springfield.

His arrest was due to a tip furnished by a traveling salesman who noticed a man walking along the road tallied with descriptions printed in the newspapers.

Wooten is also charged with escaping from the Bagdad prison camp at the Alabama state penitentiary after serving ten years of a twenty-two year sentence for grand larceny. Alabama authorities were furnished with the man's description but no attempt was made to return him to that state to finish his term.

Wooten will be taken to Lima as soon as commitment papers can be prepared, it is said.

FIVE REMAIN IN OHIO PEN DEATH ROW

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—The present population in "Death row" at Ohio State Penitentiary today stood at five with three of them scheduled to be electrocuted during this month.

Emanuel Ross, Cleveland negro, is to die September 10; Harley Pence, Columbus, September 17, and James Lyons, Norwalk, September 21.

George Vargo, Painesville, who killed his landlady when she refused to cook some cabbage for his supper goes on his last "march" October 14 and David Atkins, Stark County negro, has been granted an indefinite stay of execution.

START PETITIONS TO REINSTATE MAN

MIDDLETOWN, O., Sept. 3.—A movement to have Arnold Skinner, recently discharged as state prohibition agent reinstated again was begun here today when petitions in his behalf were circulated.

Skinner was ousted by B. F. McDonald, state prohibition commissioner, after Governor Donahy had received reports of alleged "unjustifiable" raids on picnics.

Engaged

Sir Henry Thornton, head of the Canadian national railways, was reported engaged to Miss Martha Watriss, twenty-five, a New York society girl.

AUGUST VISITED BY HEAVY RAINS

The wettest August in years was reported by W. W. Neifert, Dayton observer, whose monthly summary shows 6.59 inches of rain fell during what is usually one of the driest months of the year.

Normal precipitation for August is 3.01 and this year's excess of 3.58 inches cut the accumulated deficiency since January 1 down to 1.03 inches.

Average temperature for the month was 75 although the mean high temperature was 83.8 and the mercury reached a high mark of 92 on August 11. Lowest temperature was 59 August 25. There were six clear days, sixteen partly cloudy, nine cloudy, fifteen on which 0.1 or more inches of precipitation occurred, the greatest precipitation in twenty-four hours being 2.02 inches August 16 and 17.

There were 228.2 hours of actual sunshine, a percentage of 54. Dense fog occurred August 22 and there were thunderstorms August 2, 3, 6, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 21, 23, 24 and 29.

TWO AVIATORS ARE REPORTED MISSING

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—No word has been received here today of two aviators, missing since yesterday while flying from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia for the national air races tomorrow.

The flyers, Lloyd Spearman and George Weis, left Pittsburgh Wednesday in single seater planes and were expected here yesterday. Rain and foggy weather was reported throughout the state and it was feared that the aviators were forced down in the same territory in which Lieut. Cyrus Bettis met his fate a week ago.

Walter Beach, captain of the "travel air" team which is to compete in the races, left the field here late yesterday in a heavy rain to search for the flyers.

BRITISH FIGHT U. S. RESERVATIONS

DOMINIONS LAUNCH ATTACK ON ARTICLE IN GENEVA DEBATE

Colonies War Despite England's Favor Of Provisions

GENEVA, Sept. 3.—The United States senate's world court reservations have come under fire of the British dominions with Sir George Foster of Canada and Sir Francis Bell of New Zealand as critics of the contested fifth article of the reservations.

The strongest attack came from the American continent rather than Europe as the conference of signatories of the statute of the permanent court of international justice, debated the article.

They were made despite England's warmest support of the American reservations.

A possibility in the problem presented by the senate reservations has been advanced by foreign minister Osten Unden of Sweden. He declared that he couldn't see how it was possible to grant the United States the sweeping right requested in the fifth reservation but suggested that the conference itself make reservations, namely, acceptance of the United States adher to the court provided that the reservations did not cause trouble, but that should trouble develop, the signatures would withdraw acceptance of the United States.

In a caustic address, Sir George Foster demanded that the conference examine some actual consequences of accepting the fifth reservation.

He declared that it could not be overlooked that the United States, by legislation had enacted a mandatory act declaring that the Hague court should not deliver an advisory opinion without its consent.

He said, the league itself would not dream of doing. Sir George pictured the situation which would arise were the reservations accepted.

He said that it must then constantly be borne in mind that whenever the Hague court was asked to give an advisory opinion its first duty would be to ascertain whether the United States was interested.

This information he emphasized, was available only from the United States itself. If the reservation provided that the president could determine the matter of interest it would be a different matter, Sir George declared. But he pointed out that the court must get its answer not from some designated source, but from "the United States" itself. Hence, he said, it must first be decided what constitutes the United States in this case. After the court had received its statement from the United States that it was interested he continued, the court did not have the right to decide whether the claim of the United States was just. He said that as a result of this the reservation would mean the utmost delay which in certain cases would be fatal. He declared that the whole experience of the league demonstrated the necessity of quick decision and action.

Sir George expressed himself as willing to go to any extent necessary to assure the United States equality, even though nations within the league were carrying burdens and obligations which the United States did not carry. He said he was certain that if the United States found that it had asked questions that it had not been able to discuss with the United States in man to man fashion and an adjustment could be reached.

SLEW GRANDMOTHER BECAUSE "TOLD TO"

LONDON, O., Sept. 3.—Paul Weese, 21, is to be arraigned here today, charged with the first degree murder of Mrs. George Richards, 76, his grandmother, with whom he had been living most of his life. When asked why he committed the act he laconically replied repeatedly: "Oh, everybody told me to." Police believe the youth who has been regarded as feeble minded committed the crime during a sudden fit of insanity brooding over ill health.

EX-JURORS MEET

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—What was believed the first outing of its kind, was held here when 2,700 members attended the first annual reunion of the Franklin County Ex-jurors Association.

Mrs. Fry, Westerville, was elected president of the organization and Miss Jane Farmer, jury commissioner, was chosen secretary.

Take Taggart's Name From Book

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Tom Taggart, Democratic leader of Indiana today won his protest against the use of his name for that of a character depicted as a gambler in Edna Ferber's new novel, "Show Boat."

Nelson Doubleday, vice president of Doubleday, Page and Co., publishers, today said the fiction gambler's name would be changed in all subsequent editions of the novel. A $100,000 libel suit was threatened by Mr. Taggart unless the publishers deleted his name from future editions.

Mr. Taggart was informed of the publishers' compliance with his demand, Mr. Doubleday said. A name having the same number of letters as the one originally used for the character will be substituted.

"This business of using true names in fiction is bad stuff," said Mr. Doubleday. "The use of Mr. Taggart's name was purely incidental and was not essential to the story. Any other name will do just as well, and, since Mr. Taggart objected, we were only too glad to make the change."

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 3.—Deletion of the name of Thomas

Taggart, Indiana, Democratic leader, from Edna Ferber's novel, "Show Boat," published by Doubleday, Page and Co., may not be satisfactory to Mr. Taggart, according to Julius C. Ralston, of the Indianapolis law firm of Ralston, Gates, Lairy and Van Nuy.

Mr. Taggart, from French Lick, would not comment upon the New York publishers' willingness to delete his name until he conferred with his attorneys. He has demanded that three paragraphs be suppressed.

"The use of Mr. Taggart's name in the book linking him with gambling houses was aggravated by the publishers' release to the press of details of our correspondence," Mr. Ralston said. It is his belief that Mr. Taggart will institute his threatened suit for $100,000.

Frederick Van Nuy, one of Taggart's legal advisers, said litigation against the Women's Home Companion and the Crowell Publishing Company, the magazine publishers, will be contemplated if it is found that the publication has also printed the objectionable portion of the Ferber story. The story has been running serially in the magazine.

YOUTH CAPTURED BY POLICE AFTER CASH DRAWER IS ROBBED

Recover Most of $56 Stolen From Xenia Grocery

A colored "boy bandit" was captured by Motorcycle Policeman Peter Shagin early Friday morning several hours after he had robbed the Robb and Borden grocery, 649 E. Main St., of $56 in cash.

The boy registered at Police Headquarters as Clifford Lee, aged 12, E. Main St. His case has been transferred to Juvenile Court where a juvenile delinquency charge may be pressed against him Friday.

The grocery robbery took place at 6:30 a. m. The boy is said to have walked into the store on the pretense of being a customer and declared he wished to purchase ten cents worth of cakes.

While Raymond Borden, one of the proprietors vanished around a counter to get the cakes, the boy is said to have scooped up a roll of bills and change from a hidden money drawer, showing previous knowledge of its location.

When the proprietor returned Lee paid him with a part of the money he had stolen and left.

Borden discovered the theft when he deposited the dime in the cash drawer. The drawer was empty save for a $1 bill which the boy had overlooked.

The youth's arrest came shortly after Borden had notified Motorcycle Policeman Shagin of his loss. Inquiry revealed the fact Lee had come down town to purchase a hamper.

Shagin recovered the greater portion of the money Lee had hidden at the house of a friend, but $2 is still unaccounted for.

PHILADELPHIA IS AWAITING FIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—This city today was experiencing the lull that comes before the storm—the storm being due in about ten days when the vanguard of fight fans, officials, contractors and others come in preparation for the Dempsey-Tunney fight, September 23.

Ticket selling continued at a leisurely rate. Although ringside seats were sold out, there were plenty of seats left for those who want them fifty or sixty rows back. No large crowds thronged the fight headquarters as when Tex Rickard first established himself here.

Railroads prepared for a huge influx of visitors. The Pennsylvania railroad has announced that it will run ten or twelve special trains from New York City alone. Ticket speculators have not made their appearance to any alarming degree.

BRIDE DIES WHILE HUBBY SEEKS WORK

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Sept. 3.—Clarence Smith left his 16-year-old bride here ten days ago to look for work in Pittsburgh, explaining he would send for her as soon as he found employment. Smith found a job and sent a card to his wife telling her of his good fortune and asked her to come to Pittsburgh.

But Mrs. Smith had suddenly been stricken with peritonitis and died soon after her husband left. It was not until the card arrived here that he was informed of the tragedy. His whereabouts had been unknown.

TOY BALLOON DANGEROUS

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—When some one touched a lighted match to his toy balloon, Jerome Appel, Urbana, state fair visitor, suffered burns on his face caused by explosion of the gas in the bag.

Robbery, Kiss and Capture

Eleanor Sweet and John Martin were held up and robbed by James Murray (inset), sixteen, in a New York park. Charmed by the girl, the bandit kissed her and returned her valuables. "I hope to meet you again," he said. He did—at a police station.

AMERICAN INTERESTS GUARDED BY WAR SHIPS AT NICARAGUA

Marines and Blue Jackets Occupy Bluefields As Neutral Zone—U. S. Remains Out Of Dispute

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(UP)—With the arrival this morning of the U. S. S. Rochester at Bluefields, Nicaragua, American interests will be doubly guarded when government troops and revolutionists battle for control of El Bluff, across the harbor.

The city of Bluefields was declared a neutral zone several days ago by the U. S. S. Galveston and is now occupied by marines and blue jackets. The United States, however is taking no part in the dispute but is protecting interests of American citizens.

An additional 500 marines and blue jackets will be held in readiness by the Rochester should the fighting spread, the navy department said this morning. Skirmishing is reported to have started already in the vicinity of El Bluff.

Several hundred Americans are said to live in and near Bluefields and have large property holdings. No deaths have been reported in that vicinity but two Americans are believed to have been killed at the coast.

After two weeks of fighting, revolutionists are said to be in control of the northeastern coast. Their immediate objective is El Bluff, the point which overlooks the harbor of Bluefields.

Quiet prevails on the west coast according to official reports, after the engagement at Cosequena in which more than a hundred were killed and an equal number injured. The U. S. S. Tulsa which has been stationed on the west coast is conveying the wounded to relief stations at Corinto.

FLYERS IN TRIBUTE TO DEAD AVIATOR

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 3.—As three Selridge Field pursuit planes cruised in tribute over Detroit the body of Lieut. Cyrus C. Bettis of the 95th aerial squadron arrived here today by train from Washington, and left by motor hearse for his former home in Port Huron, Mich.

Bettis, a member of the squadron, was fatally injured in an airplane crash in the mountains of Pennsylvania a week ago and died in Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, from meningitis induced by his injuries.

Others competing were: Misses Irene Lawhead, Lorain; Edith Scott, Cleveland; Aileen Elan, Newark; Hetty Belle Fall, Kent; Edna Casey, Canton; Katherine Chaney, Lima; Helen Eckenroth, Cincinnati; and Celeste Dueth, Lakewood.

THREE EXECUTED BY STATE FOR POMEROY MURDER FOR MONEY

Notorious Slayings Walk Calmly To Death In Chair

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—Pomero's three notorious slayers went to the electric chair with as little concern and with the same contempt for life as they exhibited in their brutal murder of James McCumber, Pomero's farmer.

John Bryant, negro, and Richard Rhoades and John Hedrick, both white, died as they killed—without fear—with actual nonchalance.

They valued their own lives, apparently, hardly more than that of their victim, McCumber, for whose death Rhoades and Hedrick received $15 each from Bryant.

Each walked calmly to the chair last night and the executioners working methodically completed their grim task in thirty-one minutes.

Bryant was first to go. He walked steadily into the blinding light of the little yellow death room which was crowded three deep with witnesses. Bryant looked straight at the chair and never quavered. As the straps were being adjusted he mumbled a short prayer. He entered the room at 8:16 and at 8:25 after one application of the current was pronounced dead. The body was removed from the room in a basket and Rhoades was brought in.

Rhoades entered the room with a brisk step and seated himself in the chair with iron nerve. Asked to lean back so the straps might be adjusted, he said "yes sir." Rhoades coolly watched the guards adjust the straps. Six and one half minutes later after one application of the current he was pronounced dead.

Hedrick, brought in to the room at 8:41 p. m., experienced a little stage fright when he saw the gaping witnesses. He glanced nervously about the room as if he did not know how to act his part. Fear, however, was not written in his face. Finally, recognizing Sheriff Harry Rice he said: "Hello there Sheriff."

Just before the black mask was placed over his face he addressed the witnesses: "Folks I want you to know that what I said about this case was the truth." (Hedrick had contended that Rhoades fired the shot that killed McCumber.)

Six minutes later, after one application Hedrick was pronounced dead.

The three bodies were then conveyed out of the penitentiary where three hearses were waiting to receive them.

The triple electrocution, the first in the state's history, was carried out quietly, with precision and without a hitch in the entire program.

SMITH REFUSES TO QUIT SENATE RACE

AURORA, Ill., Sept. 3.—A blunt refusal to withdraw from the race for the U. S. senate was Frank L. Smith's Republican nominee's answer to a call to quit the race last night. Smith's representative, Attorney General Carlstrom of Illinois, made the announcement of Smith's stand at the central states fair here.

Pressure had been brought to bear on Smith to have him withdraw following revelations of large gifts to his campaign fund by utility interests brought out in senatorial primary campaign fund inquiry.

Carlstrom blamed the primary scandal on "a Democratic senator whose aim it was to strengthen the chances of the Democratic nominee."

PYTHIANS MEET

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 3.—The grand lodge, Knights of Pythias and the grand temple Pythian Sisters of Ohio, will hold their annual convention here, September 27 to 29.

REPEAT MARRIAGE

ALLIANCE, O., Sept. 3.—With the Friends Church at Damascus, filled to capacity, the Rev. and Mrs. John Pennington repeated the Quaker ceremony by which they were married sixty years ago.

CHARGE MASSILLON BUSINESS MAN WITH PUBLISHER'S DEATH

Alleged Bootlegger Arrested Friday By Canton Deputy

MASSILLON, O., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Ben Rudner, Massillon hardware dealer, and alleged bootleg king was arrested here this morning on a charge of murder in connection with the killing of Don Mellett. Rudner was arrested at his hardware store at 10:45 a. m., by Deputy L. S. Gibson, Canton.

Rudner is the second charged with murder in the Mellett case. Louis Mazer held in the county jail at Cleveland is the other. Both were involved in the murder conspiracy by testimony of Steve Koschick, a friend of Patrick McDermott, fugitive witness.

CANTON, O., Sept. 3.—The Stark county grand jury considering the Don R. Mellett murder case adjourned this morning after a brief session to reconvene at 1 p. m., when it is expected to return indictments against three men.

Ben Rudner, Massillon bootlegger, arrested on a charge of murder was locked up in Stark county jail at 11:15 this morning. He had been taken into custody by a deputy sheriff a short time before at Massillon.

TWO TRY CHANNEL; THIRD GIVES UP

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Sept. 3.—Mona MacLaren and Horace Carey, both of Folkestone, England, started swimming the English channel at 5:10 a. m. today. Two and one-half hours later they were two and a half miles off shore. The weather was unsettled.

Both are comparatively unknown. Their efforts were made unannounced and unheralded. The woman swimmer refused to be photographed.

Miss MacLaren is a physician and Carey is a well known British swimmer.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The English channel won another victory over man today when Norman Derrham, an Englishman, abandoned an attempt to swim to England from the French coast when a few miles off Dover.

Derrham who lives at South End-on-the-sea entered the water at Cape Gris Nez at 3:45 a. m. yesterday and abandoned his effort at 6:15 a. m. today.

DIRIGIBLE SAFE AT ILLINOIS HANGAR

SCOTT FIELD, BELLEVILLE, Ill., Sept. 3.—Successfully weathering heavy storms over most of the route the TC-5, semi-rigid army dirigible arrived at the army hangars here at 6 a. m. today from Langley Field, Va.

Two stops were made on the flight. One at Dayton, O., for fueling and another forced landing near Washington C. H. O.

From Dayton westward the blimp was in storm territory during most of the trip. At no time, however, was the ship in danger, the pilots said upon arrival. The ship maintained a flying speed of fifty miles an hour.

TWO RAILROADERS KILLED BY WRECK

CUMBERLAND, Md., Sept. 3.—Two railway men were killed and two were injured in a collision between a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train en route from New York to Chicago and a freight train near Foley, Pa., last night. As far as is known here, no passengers were injured.

The accident occurred shortly after 11 o'clock. A wrecking train was sent from Cumberland.

The dead men are Wilkie Collins, engineer of the passenger train and R. L. Albright, fireman. A fireman and a brakeman of the freight train were injured.

VALENTINO PASSES

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 3.—A Lake Shore limited train bearing the body of Rudolph Valentino pulled into the union station here at 8:30 a. m., today. Except for a small group, mostly Italians, there was no unusual crowd on the platform. No demonstration of mourning was made.

NAZARENE CHURCH TO START CAMPAIGN
TO SOLICIT $5,000

A campaign of personal solicitation of Xenia business houses by authorized solicitors of the Church of the Nazarene, Orange and Bellbrook Ave., in the initial effort to raise $5,000 with which to reduce the church indebtedness, will be begun next week under the personal direction of the Rev. F. H. Landgrabe, pastor.

Part of the purchase price was paid off at the time the building was bought but a heavy debt still rests upon the shoulders of the congregation, according to the pastor, who solicits the co-operation of Xenians in the financial drive.

It is planned to have business houses visited personally by authorized solicitors. Then a house to house canvass will be made. Envelopes will be left with an explanation of the purpose of the campaign and a request that contributions be placed in the envelopes, which will be collected the following day. Each solicitor will be supplied with credentials signed by church officials.

Special services at the church every night of next week will officially launch the drive. The Rev. Mr. Landgrabe will have charge of the services Sunday.

According to the plan for the week, the Rev. W. R. Gilley, Dayton, pastor of the First Church there, will preach Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The Rev. C. A. Gibson, Columbus, district superintendent, will be present Thursday night and have charge of the services for the remainder of the week, closing with a final rally at the church on Sunday.

Xenia's Church of the Nazarene was organized in September, 1918. The congregation met for worship in various rented buildings until June, 1922 when the present church edifice was purchased from the United Presbyterian Church.

It was originally erected by the U. P. Church for a mission in charge of students of the Xenia Theological Seminary. Shortly after the Seminary was moved away from Xenia, the church building was sold to the Church of the Nazarene.

At that time the Rev. Frank Watkin, now pastor of the First Church at Marion, O., was the minister. He resigned September 1, 1924 to accept the pastorate of the Marion church and was followed in the pulpit by the Rev. W. R. Gilley, who supplied the pastorate until May 1, 1925, when the present pastor, the Rev. Mr. Landgrabe, was called.

Inaugurating a new membership drive to be waged by Xenia Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles during the next two months, LaDru Layton, Springfield, worthy vice president of the state order of the lodge, will appear in the church to address members of the local Aerie at a meeting of the order Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Layton will confine his remarks to helpful suggestions to make the drive successful and on the importance of such campaigns.

TO ADDRESS EAGLES
ON DRIVE OPENING

The Aerie roster now shows 260 members and it is hoped to boost this membership to 360 by October 27, when the campaign comes to a close.

All members of the Aerie are urged to attend the meeting Friday night.

ELECTION BOARD TO ORGANIZE SOON

Board of elections will hold its first meeting since the August primary election, some time next week, according to Earl Short, clerk of the board.

Petitions of candidacy of three men for Common Pleas Court judge, part petitions in support of the movement to repeal the Ohio primary law, the county ticket entered by the Prohibition party and the state ticket entered by the Socialist party are among important matters to be considered.

If approved, the petitions will be certified to Thad H. Brown, secretary of state.

Other important business may be transacted in preparation for the regular election November 2.

RECTOR RESIGNS

NEWARK, O., Sept. 3.—Rev. Lewis P. Franklin, who for the past twenty-one years has been rector of Trinity Episcopal Church here, has resigned his pastorate of the church effective October 15. The vestry accepted his resignation at a meeting last evening.

EAST END NEWS

THORNE

FOR JUDGE

Lawyer George H. Thorne, of Spring Valley, Ohio, is an independent candidate for Common Pleas Judge of Greene County.

He is a native of Bellbrook, sixty years of age, and has had a wide and varied legal experience. Going to Colorado early in life, when the boys were told to "go west and grow up with the country," he became a lawyer.

After years of practice, and seven years as Assistant Attorney General of the state, he was elected judge. When Wilson became President he appointed him Assistant Attorney General of the United States at Washington, D. C., which office he held with distinction for eight years.

However, he made his home in Greene County in 1913. In 1918 he was the Democratic candidate for Congress in this district, and secured the largest vote ever received by a Democrat. He was executive secretary to Governor Donahey for a year or so, until he engaged in the practice of law at Dayton. He lives in Spring Valley going to his Dayton law office each day.

With superior legal training and experience, with fine poise and a judicial mind, it is admitted Judge Thorne is admirably fitted for the office of Common Pleas Judge.

His friends urge that it is time for a change in Greene County. That Mr. Thorne, a man of good character, well qualified, free from the influences of factional strife, should receive the favorable consideration of the good citizens of Greene County and be elected Judge of our highest court.

C. A. SOLLERS,
Chairman Thorne for Judge Committee.

BRIDGE COMPLETED

BELLAIRE, O., Sept. 3.—Ohio and West Virginia were joined by another bridge here with the completion of a 700-foot channel span. Sixty bridgemen watched, 200 feet above the water level, the huge girder from the Ohio side slip inland, resulting from a mosquito bite. His physician has been successful in checking the infection.

The blanket petition filed by the Prohibition party containing the candidacies of five aspirants to county office at the November election, will receive designation and a column on the ticket at the fall election.

Legality of the petition filed with Earl Short, clerk of the Board of Elections, Wednesday, was confirmed in a telegram received by Mr. Short from Secretary of State Thad H. Brown.

Question of whether the Prohibition ticket could legally go on the ballots arose in view of the fact the petition must contain one per cent of the vote cast for that party at the last election two years ago.

Mr. Short asked the secretary of state for a decision and received the information Thursday. No explanation accompanied the telegram but the clerk was referred to a section of the Ohio code governing the filing of declaration of candidacy.

The blanket petition contained 127 signatures instead of forty-seven. On the Prohibition ticket are candidates for county commissioner, auditor, treasurer, sheriff and state representative, assuring opposition to the Republican nominations at the primary of R. D. Williamson for representative, R. O. Wead for auditor, Ohmer Tate for sheriff, Helen Dodds for treasurer and Herman Eavey for commissioner.

GO HOME CHILDREN

From now we may expect a sudden decrease of crime in Chicago.

Probably murders, hold ups, bank robberies, beer running and gang wars will cease as if by magic, or at least become almost negligible in numbers.

What is the reason for this expected metamorphosis?

Three thousand stalwart policemen, in nice blue uniforms, doubtless with loaded revolvers in easily accessible holsters, have been turned loose on the streets with strict orders to see that all children are at home by ten o'clock each evening.

The second city in size of the nation, the leading city of the world in crime, has passed a curfew law. It has found out that paths of iniquity suddenly open at ten o'clock each night to those persons who are not yet sixteen years of age.

The city which brought up Loeb and Leopold, who staged their crime before ten o'clock at night, has decided to protect its young folk in future.

And so three thousand policemen will watch carefully for all persons under 16 and send them home if they are on the streets unaccompanied by adults after ten o'clock each night. For a second offense the parents will be fined and the children sent to juvenile court.

This will mean perhaps, hunger and hardships for the parents and the creating of bitterness and ruining of life for the young persons.

But what does that matter as long as the law is upheld?

Chicago must be very proud of the way it upholds laws. In fact it must be exceedingly proud, even perfectly confident of this upholding. Otherwise it would take some of the policemen who are watching for offenses against the curfew law and assign them to arresting any gunmen or bad characters who might perchance arrive in the Illinois metropolis from some 'tough' country town.

Now that the children will be off the streets at night there will be more room for such gunmen to roam the city, and of course the nice gentle gangsters will be able to blaze away at each other, at policemen (those who are not busy escorting children home) and at pedestrians, with their usual indiscriminate and without fear of hitting any young persons.

Doubtless the world is looking at Chicago today in a different frame of mind to hitherto. Perhaps it lifts its hat in praise for the great reform movement which the 'Windy City' has started.

Civilization can point with pride to Chicago and say 'Look what that great city is doing to stamp out vice and crime. And the children will not be in danger of getting murdered, kidnaped, attacked, and tortured for more than 16 hours per day.'

New York

By Jack O'Donnell

The butterfly room at the museum of Natural History was full of people. But they were all concentrated in a ring over at one corner of the room.

"Must be something exceptional," I thought, "to attract everyone away from these gorgeous cases."

I stepped over and joined the ring. There, in the middle, was an electrician, waiting at a little table in the floor for a wire to appear.

The crust of centuries was forming, unmoistened, on New York's hide. Buildings were acquiring a pleasant dark coat of cosmic tan—the result of many days and nights of sun and wind and dust and smoke. And then a great snake was let loose in New York. It was attacking this hide. Twenty inches in diameter. Three hundred feet in length. It's the sandblaster's snake, the tube through which sand and air are carried up from the street to clean the walls of edifices. Buildings that were deep brown yesterday are white today, and the centuries will soon be forgotten.

Everywhere in New York, in the back alleys, on the riverfront, along Broadway in the glare of the lights, are human shadows. Watchers of the trails. Men and women employed to shadow other men and women report their actions.

A clubman steps from a bronze doorway into a waiting limousine. Around the corner swings a taxi, weaves into a traffic, and follows. A crook shuffles out of a joint in the Bowery. From a near-by news stand, a man steps quietly out and follows, a block behind. Lights and shadows.

Today's Talk

JUST A BROOMSTICK

It was said of Wendell Phillips that he was such an entertaining speaker that he could speak interestingly about a broomstick. But what would he do without broomsticks? There is a great deal to be said in their favor. They form one of the staple accessories of the world.

But when you think of the brushy part of the broom, how it was grown in the fields, and then dried and made into the form it takes at the bottom of the broomstick, then you have to give credit to the ingenuity of man. Not all the later inventions of man quite take the place of the broom and its support—the broomstick. It has been useful for decades after decades.

But the broomstick is useful only as it is in the hands of one who has a purpose in his mind. The janitor loves his broom. He knows that it brings in his pay and his heart is warmed as he sees cleanliness where anything but cleanliness existed before.

The broomstick is just an instrument of service, after all. And that's what you and I are—instruments in the hands of time and fate and circumstance, for the rendering of service.

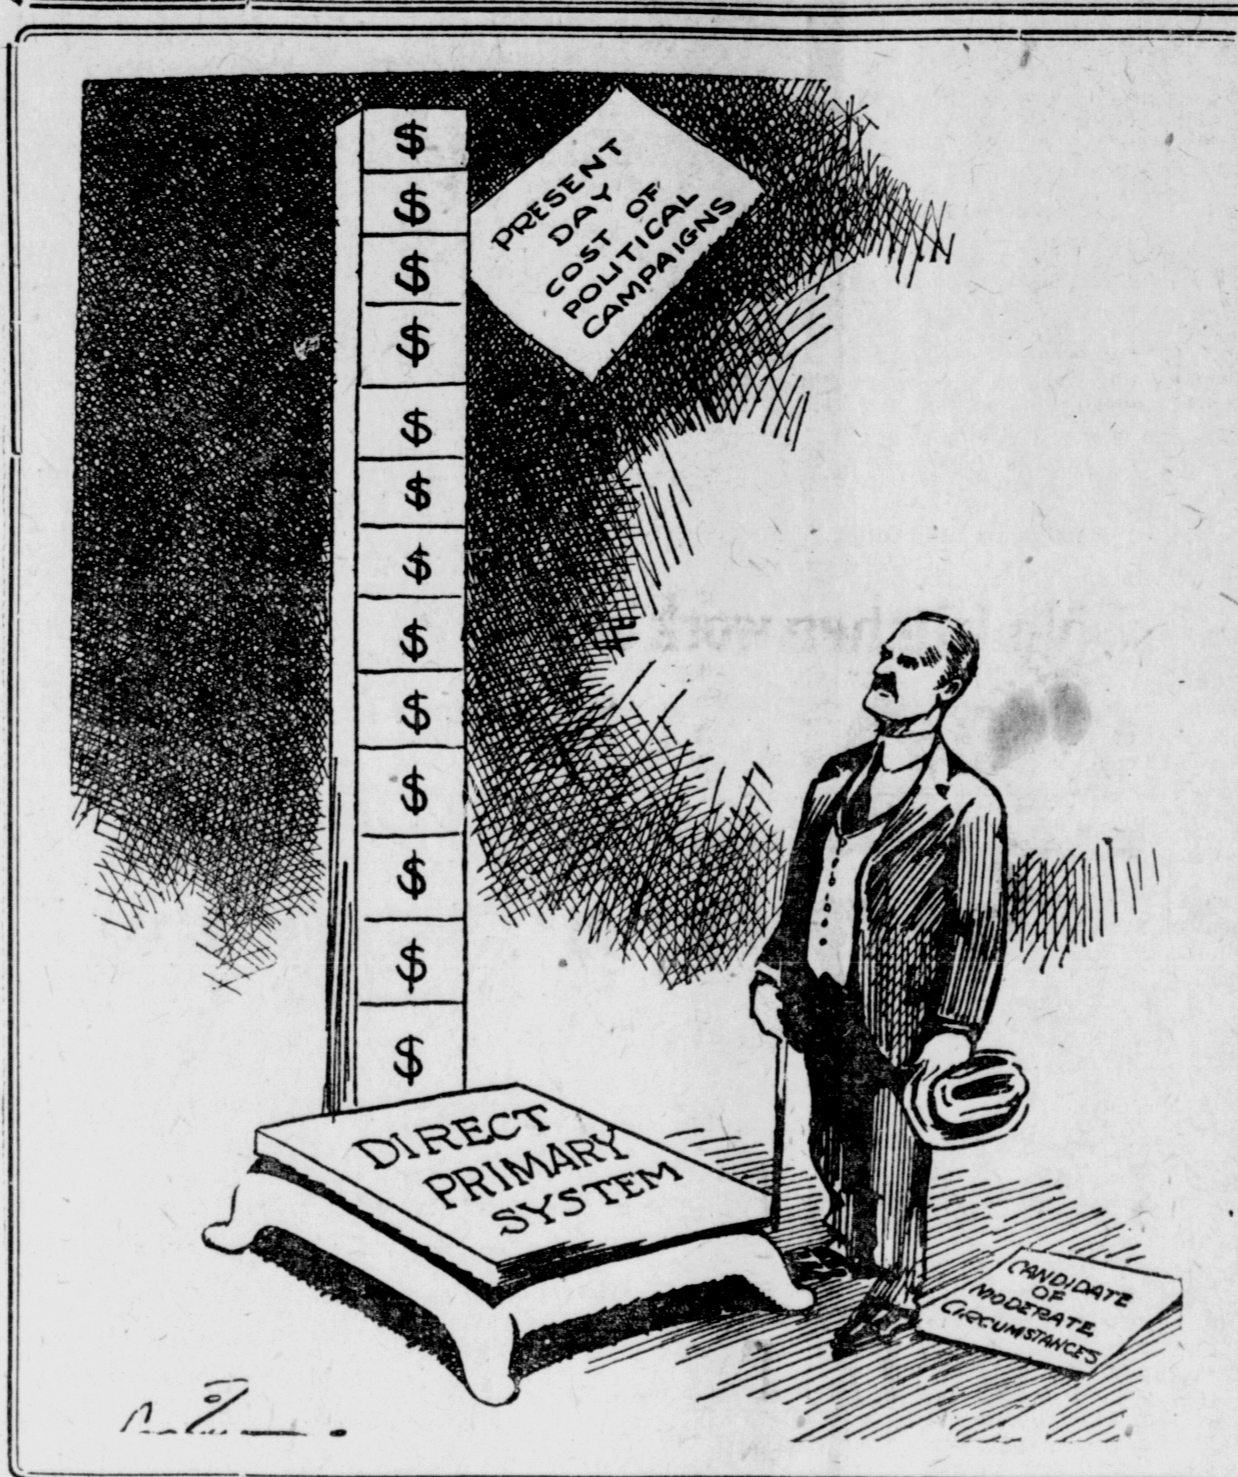

At the first we are linked for we have possibilities within us

RECEIPTS SLUMP

Receipts at the Xenia Postoffice slumped slightly during August in comparison with the corresponding month in the preceding year, it is shown in the monthly financial statement prepared by Postmaster C. S. Frazer.

Receipts during August, 1926, amounted to $3,486.93 and in the same month in 1925 the total was $3,820.26, a decline of $333.33 for the period.

stand untouched for forty-eight hours. Now drain and wipe each cucumber and place them in a crock. Add one large onion peeled and stuck full of whole cloves. Also add one green pepper cut in strips, and one-fourth cup of grated horseradish. Measure vinegar sufficient to cover the pickles well and bring this vinegar to the boiling point with a muslin bag filled with one cupful of mixed whole spices (cloves, allspice, peppercorns, stick cinnamon, blades of mace, white mustard, seed, etc.). Turn hot vinegar and spice bag, onto the cucumbers. If desired, pack pickles in two-quart glass jars and seal airtight while hot from the boiling vinegar.

REQUESTED PICKLING RECIPES

Cucumber Pickles: Requires fifty medium-sized cucumbers, salt, two tablespoons of white mustard seed, one peck of white onions, two tablespoons each of celery seed and peppercorns, one-half cup of olive oil and cider vinegar. Slice the cucumbers and place them in a crock sprinkled generously with salt. Let stand three or four hours, then drain off the liquid which has collected. Mix together the mustard seed, celery seed, peppercorns and olive oil. Slice the onions. Arrange the cucumbers and onions in alternate layers in a crock with occasional layers of spices, then add vinegar to cover. A small lump of alum (about as large as a hickory nut) dissolved in a little of the vinegar used will harden the cucumbers.

Grape Relish: Three and one-half pounds of grapes (wild grapes are best), one and one-half pounds of granulated sugar, three-fourths of a teaspoon of ground cinnamon, one-third teaspoon each of ground cloves and allspice, one-half cup of vinegar and one-half cup of water. Wash and stem the grapes, place in a double boiler and cook till the skins pop. Now remove skins and press the pulp through a sieve fine enough to hold the seeds back. Put skins with water in a saucepan and boil till tender; add the strained pulp to these cooked skins then also

SIDELIGHTS

ON
Greene County History

BOUNDARIES

First limits of Greene County were much more extensive than they are today.

There is, however, so much geographical ambiguity in the section describing the original boundaries of the county that it is almost impossible to determine with any degree of certainty the limits of the county as set forth by this section.

The difficulty in defining these original limits arises from the fact that the farmers of the section described the bounds not by township, range and section lines, neither by natural features, but their delineation depended entirely upon the counties previously established, Ross and Hamilton.

First it is necessary to determine the limits of Montgomery County which was erected at the same time as Greene; secondly the limits of Ross County, extent of which was vague, would have to be determined. In fact the only definite line of the county at that time was its northern boundary, the state line. Eastern and western limits of this north line of the county were not determined by the section four of the act which created the four counties, Greene, Montgomery, Warren and Butler.

Moreover, while the section specifically states that the northern boundary of Greene County was the state line, it follows that the framers of the section did not take into consideration the Greenville Treaty line of 1795, for the legislature as a matter of fact had not right to reorganize counties out of territory to which the Indians had not then relinquished their title. It follows, then that the limits of the county in 1803 could not have extended farther north than the Greenville Treaty line.

Clears away itching
rash in two days
Uses Resinol now for all kinds of skin ills

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 4.—"On July 20, 1917, just before I was called to service in France, I was advised by my druggist to use Resinol Ointment for a rash which I had on my arm. It relieved the itching and the rash was gone in two days. Later I cured two friends of mine who were suffering from some kind of skin trouble. We all agreed that it was 100% stuff for anything like a breaking out."

While in France I had a bunch of boils that nothing seemed to cure until I had the doctor fix the little place up (after a treatment with a knife) with Resinol. Needless to say, I soon lost all my boils and from that time on I became the outfit's boil and pimple doctor.

Since coming home I have used a great many jars of Resinol and I swear by it. Every little cut or scratch gets its immediate application of Resinol. It is a wonderful, non-equalled ointment." (Signed) Chas. T. Sweet, Jr., 3015 So. 7th St.

The Theatre

With the closing of numerous theaters, cabarets and night clubs, because of the warm weather, throwing many musicians, dancers and actors out of work, the American Aid Society of Paris has been overrun lately by stranded theatrical artists who are unable to find positions of any kind.

Many of these American performers are absolutely broke and the aid Society is confronted with a serious problem, as its limited resources enable it to aid only a small number of the most needy and most deserving applicants. Out of about 3,000 who applied for help in the last year, the organization could assist only 150. Contracts made in the United States are not legal in France, and musicians and other artists have no redress in case their contract is not lived up to by the parties responsible for taking them over.

An offer of $50,000 for an engagement of ten weeks at the Columbia Theater, burlesque house New York, operated by the Columbia Amusement Co., has been made to Gertrude Ederle, English Channel swimmer, who returned this week. The offer, presented Miss Ederle by Jack Linder, for and on behalf of Dave Marlon and the Columbia Amusement Co., follows offers for other theatrical engagements at less salary which had been made by Keith-Albee, George White and William Morris. Beginning Oct. 1, Miss Ederle would do two shows daily in a special act with diving girls.

Sissie and Blake, the famous team of Broadway stars, will be the headliners in the benefit dance and "Midnight" Show to be staged at Memorial Hall, Columbus, Friday, Sept. 10. The dance and show are for the benefit of Mrs. Walker, mother of the late George Walker, who was a member of the famous team of Williams and Walker. There will be two orchestras. The performance is under auspices of the Ohio Reunion Association of Ex-Service men, according to W. C. T. Ayres, former Xenian, secretary.

Four musical comedy stars—Walter Catlett, Charles Winninger, Oscar Shaw and Ralph Sipperly are now acting in Fox photoplays. Shaw will be remembered by Xenians for his performance and singing in "The Music Box Revue" in Dayton, last Winter.

Rain Cheats Reds As Cardinals Win Two

Hopes of the Cardinals to bring a National League pennant to St. Louis for the first time in thirty-seven years, were given additional impetus when Hornsby's boys took both ends of a double-header from the Chicago Cubs Thursday while the Pittsburgh-Cincinnati contest was terminated by rain after three and one-half innings of play.

The twin victory over the fourth-place Cubs enabled St. Louis to extend its lead over the Reds to two full games with the Pirates still in third place, three full games behind the pacemaker.

Chicago dropped further back in fourth place and is now seven and one-half games behind the leader. No fooling, the Cardinals are presenting their most serious threat to win the bunting in the last quarter of a century. The team has been going at a wonderful clip with a record of six straight victories over Pittsburgh and Chicago.

From now on the schedule favors St. Louis. The club's showing in these two series against two of its principal Western contenders has been a delightful revelation to St. Louis fans.

Those who presented claims that the Cardinals lacked pluck, dash and courage and determination and would "crack" as usual in the pinch, were made to eat "crow" because if ever a team has shown its real ability under trying conditions it has been the Hornsby clan.

Now comes the serious battle for first place between Cincinnati and St. Louis at the former's park. The two clubs open a three-game series Friday, unless rain again intervenes, and the final test of strength is at hand.

The Reds have generally been poised to the Cardinals this year but unless the team takes at least two games its championship aspirations will receive a rude jolt. The final Eastern trip is also at hand and the Reds have proven a notoriously poor road club this season. St. Louis, on the other hand, is at its best away from home.

Cincinnati was disappointed Thursday in its hope to gain a half game on the league leaders and a full game on the Pirates when rain brought a halt to the conflict with Pittsburgh in the fourth inning with the home team ahead 3 to 0.

Pittsburgh, its lineup patched up, is slipping rapidly and is no longer seriously considered as a flag contender. When the final history of the race is written, a chapter may be saved for the Pirates in which an appropriate inscription would be "Killed by double-headers."

Twin bills have ruined the Pirates pitching staff. It has been a tough break but the Smoky City gang is not yet out of the woods and has six more double-headers in the next nine playing days. The staff will be unable to stand such an enormous strain.

BUSINESS MEN BEAT SCOUTS IN CONTEST FOR SOFT BALL TITLE

Hyman Pitches His Team To Victory With Good Support

Junior Business Men's Club repulsed the initial thrust at its title of city soft ball champions in a convincing manner by defeating the Boy Scouts decisively in a return contest 21 to 5 Thursday night at Cox Memorial Athletic Field.

The winners scored all of their runs in four innings, nine in the first, seven in the third, two in the fifth and three more in the seventh.

Isadore Hyman occupied the mound for the business men and had only one or two bad innings. Gibeay twirled for the Scouts and the older team had little difficulty in producing runs from his offerings.

The J. B. M. C. soft ball team is now open to challenges.

"Not Possible To Classify"

MEOW! MEOW!

Last night about three a. m. I found myself sitting up in bed. At first I thought our baby was crying. My second thought was that I would have to take it out and park it in the garage for the rest of the night, so that I could sleep. My third thought brought to mind the fact that we didn't have any baby at all.

Suffering cats! Howling cats! There was weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth from the back porch below my window. I had six shotgun shells in the house, but was afraid I would be arrested for shooting off firearms within the city limits should I fire at the night howlers.

I finally thought of the tea kettle. I decided to shampoo the kitten whiskers with boiling cistern water. So I stumbled downstairs, lighted the lantern, put wood into the kitchen stove pumped a bucket of water, put the water on the fire and sat down to wait for steam to raise. The water was about as slow as congress in getting warmed up, but I refused to yield until it was hot.

On reaching the upstairs window I found a screen prevented my throwing the teakettle and all at the cats, so I dashed the water through it, letting the drops fall where they might. The cats shook themselves and walked slowly away to the front porch of a neighbor, where they tuned up on another mournful melody.

Now came a yelp from the bed and I found that I had placed the hot tea kettle on the covers just over my wife's feet. Her wailing was as bad as that of the cats, which by that time were back directly under my window trying to cry, louder than my poor aching wife.

My, what a night!

GOLDEN TEXT: Jehovah spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh to his friend. Ex. 33:11.

TIME: Autumn of B. C. 1493.

PLACE: The Israelites were still in the Sinai region, with their main encampment still in the plain of Er Rahah, but scattered out through the neighboring valleys.

PRINTED LESSON TEXT: Exodus, 33:7-16.

INTRODUCTION: This Mount Sinai, was the main encamping place, in the long journey of the Israelites, between Egypt and Canaan, not in point of years spent here for that, was only for one year, while the journey spread over forty years, yet the most important events of the entire period took place during the one year spent here. The apex of these events was the giving of the law, by Jehovah to Moses, for the people, then follows the shaping of the people from the loose unorganized mass to the highly systematized nation. Moses received many divine instructions from Jehovah for the people and the one that we study today is regarding the tent of meeting.

1. A PLACE OF WORSHIP: While religion is to be carried into every day lives and be a part of us, yet we must have a definite place of worship, apart from our busy and nervous business connections. It was a place, a place of worship, where Moses met and chatted with God, this "tent of meeting." Nature, truly, is God's temple yet He expects you and I to have a definite place in which to worship Him, in this spirit of friendship. We realize full well that God is in Nature and is everywhere yet our finest things are greatly strengthened and assisted by visible and material things, and means. When we think back over the years of history we realize that man provided homes for his loved ones and thus we can expect it to be necessary and best that the fine spirit and relation of life, religion, needs the same definite place and means.

We do need the church which is our tent of meeting, where we can meet and talk with God to best of advantage. If we rely on talking with him at our offices and homes entirely we will find that there are too many things that take our minds off our meeting with Him. Worshipping God everywhere will in time become nowhere. We should respect and appreciate the House of God and be joyful, "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go unto the House of Jehovah." Psalm 122:1.

2. REVERENCE: As Moses approached the tent of the meeting "all the people rose up, and stood, every man at his tent-door, and looked after Moses, until he was gone into the Tent." The tent, house of worship, was the real center of the camp, even as the church is the recognized center of genuine and sincere spiritual, beneficial, and influential force today, over each community. Before our minds eye we should ever hold that vision of the lifting influence and guiding force of the House of God, as we plan and enact our social and business life as well as our religious life, and activities. We truly live in two separate worlds, material and spiritual, but they are complementary to each other and God and his principles must be the fiber and sinew that holds all forces together in both now as well as then. A menacing and seriously defective spirit that has crept into our American lives is that of irreverence. We must fight this terrible force if we expect to reach and enjoy that which is higher and better in life. "Put off thy shoes, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground." Ex. 3:5.

3. A SIGN AND GOD'S VOICE: After Moses went into the tent God sent a cloud down to stand before the door and He spoke to Moses. We read of clouds and God's speaking to His servants down through the ages and even now each cloud has a message. It is God's method to conceal something by a cloud yet He always speaks what He expects of us and that which is best for us. These clouds never leave us in doubt, yet appear as road signs for us in this material and complicated life. He that heareth him hath heard the Father, and in following His directions we follow the light and power of life and do not follow the clouds of darkness.

4. OUR HUMAN WEAKNESS AND NEED OF A GUIDE: Moses was that power, guided by God, that led the great number out of Egypt, and made the whole of the Egyptians dread him, and even Pharaoh to bow at his feet, so to speak yet now we find that Moses, rightly, feels his responsibility to God and His people, and asks for God to "show me thy ways." The higher our station in life the more natural it is for us to feel our humility before God and His teachings. God is for us to feel our humility before God and His teachings. God does not speak to us audibly today yet if we follow His word and the life of Jesus Christ, His son, we can easily learn and follow His wishes.

5. EVER PRESENT: Even as Moses, we must realize that God is everywhere. "My presence shall go with Thee." RESOLVE
To keep my health.
To do my work.
To live.
To see to it I grow and gain and give.
Never to look behind me for an hour.
To wait in weakness, and to walk in power.
But always fronting onward to the light.
Always and always facing toward the right.
Robbed, starved, defeated, fallen, wide astray.
On, with what strength I have.
Back to the way.—C. P. Gilman.
My business is not to remake myself.

But to make the absolute best of what God made.—R. Browning.
Prudence does not consist in evasion, or in flight, but in courage. He who wishes to walk in with any sincerity, must screw himself up to resolution. Let him the most peaceful parts of life front the object of worst apprehension, and so stoutness will commonly make his fear groundless.—Emerson.

HE JUST PLAYED BALL
That little figure caught my eye. I found myself watching Tony for half an hour. He was of Italian ancestry, and as American as the game that he was playing. He was twelve years old but ten in size. The point was that all of him, was in the game, every ounce of him, including his head. That made a total of more than grown men who weigh three times as much as he often put into it. He was a catcher who did not let one by; he threw to second like an arrow; he was captain of nine much smaller and younger than the nine against him. Under Tony's training and eye his nine had team play.

He was a silent little commander, but when he spoke he meant business. No yapping against a decision of the umpire. Tony's nine just played ball. He was cool in a pinch. Twice he stole bases; nabbed in a third attempt, he grinned good-naturedly. He brought in two runs with a two-bagger. I stayed right on until his nine had won the game. Some day he may be in a major league team, or may be governor or president.

This made me think of prenatal care and child care and all we can do for child welfare to make as many like Tony as we can. I am sure that there are a lot of Tonys in the nine competing in the Junior World Series, and a nine that is composed entirely of Tonys ought to have a good chance of winning the pennant in Philadelphia.

—Palmer.

Then they came and bowed to the ground before the great man whom they had last seen as a weeping boy, bound on the saddle pack of an Ishmaelite camel, and of this they could not know, nor did they remember the dream of one sheaf bowing before another or stars doing homage to another. But the years had not wrought such a change on the man as the boy, and Joseph knew his brethren at once, and as they bowed before him, he remembered his boyish dreams and saw them come true. Nevertheless, there was no malice in his heart towards them, but only kindness; yet he wished to prove them and to see if they were the same evil men whom he had known as a boy. Therefore, he spoke sharply to them accused them of being spies; and when they denied it, and said that they were all brethren, and had one brother still left in Canaan, he said: "By the life of Pharaoh, you shall not leave this place till I have tested thy word." For in his heart he longed to see Benjamin once more, and took this plan to bring him down to Egypt. So he put them up and took in prison three days; but on the third day he called them to him, and said: "Lo, I make it easier for you, because I fear God. You shall go home with the corn you need. Only one of you shall stay here in prison till you come back with your youngest brother, and so prove your words."

Now when they saw all this trouble come upon them so suddenly, conscience awoke, and they reproached themselves. "This has come to us," they said, "because we were so cruel to our brother Joseph, and would not listen to his prayer for mercy." And Reuben said: "Did not I tell you not to sin against the child? Yet you would not listen: so now his blood is required by you." All this Joseph heard as he stood by, but they knew not that he understood their speech, for he had spoken to them in Egyptian, and his words had been translated by an interpreter. And when he heard it, Joseph's heart was full, and he had to leave their presence. He chose his elder brother Simeon to stay in prison, and sent the rest away. Their sacks were filled with corn, and he had given secret orders that their money should be put back again, along with the corn, in the mouths of the sacks.

So the brethren went on their way; but when they came to the first resting place, and one of them opened the sack of feed, to feed his ass, behold there was his money in his sack's mouth. Then they were all perplexed and anxious to what this might mean. However, they went back to Jacob and told him all that had happened to them, and how Simeon had been left as a pledge for the coming of Benjamin, and how the money of one of them had been put back into his sack. But when they opened the rest of the sacks, lo, it was the same with all of them. Then Jacob was greatly afraid. "Thy journey has been an unlucky one," he said.

TO SPEAK HERE

J. A. EDGERTON

James A. Edgerton, Washington D. C., will speak at the Knights of Pythias Hall here, Thursday night, September 9, at 8 o'clock. There will be no admission fee.
Mr. Edgerton has spoken all over America and in foreign countries. His especial theme is "Christ in Business and Industry." "If the Golden Rule were practiced in the factories and industrial plants, the labor problem would disappear," is his theory. "If Christ's teachings on peace were followed by the Christian nations of the world, war would disappear. If they were followed as to healing disease and bodily ills would be lessened and put in the way of gradual disappearance. If they were followed as to conduct, we would have a worth-while world."

Mr. Edgerton was for seven years purchasing agent of the Post Office Department, was also a member of the War Industries Board and held other government positions. He was for fifteen years president of the International New Thought Alliance, was editorial writer on the Denver News, the New York American, etc., and is known in America and abroad as a writer and lecturer.

YELLOW SPRINGS RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. George Bickett, 73, formerly of Xenia, passed away at her home in Yellow Springs, Friday morning at 6 o'clock. Death was caused by gangrene and diabetes, resulting from a fractured hip received several months ago. Mrs. Bickett had been bedfast five months.
She was born in Greene County and would have reached her seventy-fourth birthday September 9. She spent practically all of her life in this county, and moved to Yellow Springs from Xenia, where the family lived for some time, twelve years ago. Mr. Bickett preceded his wife in death in

Four children survive: Arnold and Earl Bickett, at home; Mrs. W. J. Chapman, Galveston, Tex., and Leroy M. Bickett, Watertown, Wis., with two sisters, Mrs. Clint Manor, Xenia and Mrs. George Jinkins, Jamestown.
Funeral arrangements have not been announced. Mrs. Bickett was a member of First U. P. Church, this city.

PENNSY TAKES OFF TRAINS ON SUNDAY

Two east and west-bound accommodation trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad, which have been operated every day including Sunday, have been taken off on Sundays, according to I. F. Emry, passenger agent here.
The accommodation for Columbus at 8:55 a. m. railroad time and the Cincinnati-bound accommodation at 9:41 a. m. railroad time, are affected by the new order. Both will be daily except Sunday the order becoming effective Sunday, September 5th.

The Gilded Rose

By May Christie

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY:

ROSILYN RIDGEWAY learns on her wedding day from the gossip that she has been married for her money. Before her enormous fortune was left her, she had been an over-worked little drudge in her father's inn.

LANDIS RIDGEWAY, her husband is a brilliant, fascinating man, who was forced into the marriage by his mother. Rosilyn, loving her husband, knows he is still in love with LYDIA HARBROOK, a beautiful, cold society girl who is bent on marrying.

STEVIE VAN VORST, a wealthy old roue, although she is really fond of Ridgeway.

RUPERT BRISCOE, a dissipated man of the world, has seen Rosilyn but once, and yet is deeply interested in her. Lydia learns of this interest, and she and Briscoe concoct a plot whereby Rosilyn and Briscoe will see a great deal of each other, and Lydia will have a chance to exert her wiles upon Landis. The plan works, and Landis, finding himself often alone with Lydia falls under her spell once more.

Van Vorst, however, hungering for her love, decides to use MARIETTA FERNANDEZ, a dancer and sweetheart of Briscoe's in connection with a scheme. These two come to New York where Marietta begins to vamp Landis away from Lydia, leaving a clear field for the elderly schemer.

In the country at the Ridgeway place, Rosilyn, in a fever of jealousy and anxiety over the protracted disappearance of her husband seeks the solace of the countryside. After an exciting adventure she is rescued by Briscoe who tells a "fishy" story to account for his proximity to the scene. Soon after Landis effects a reconciliation with Rosilyn and becomes his old lovable self. The latter discovers damning evidence against Lydia and exerts her power to secure the upper hand—in the city meanwhile Marietta feels her power over Briscoe declining.

Torn by jealousy, Marietta surreptitiously sends Rosilyn and makes an ambiguous declaration of love.

Walking away the dancer stumbles into an underground passage where she finds Briscoe surrounded by incriminating evidence. The latter suspects treachery.

CHAPTER 63
In The Pool

Briscoe eyed her sharply in the dimly lit cave. It occurred to him that she wasn't lying, and relief caught him, so that his grip on Marietta's shoulders loosened.

fool, not even yours!"

"But Steve Van Vorst is nothing to me. He never was, and never will be!"

Briscoe's lip curled cynically. "Then you're stupider than I take you for, that's all. You ought to make hay while the sun shines, m'dear—because, frankly, I haven't got the time to devote to you, nor yet the money—and Steve Van Vorst has both. You go ahead and play your cards well and I wish you luck!"

She was silent as he bought her ticket, and put her on the train.

"Bye-bye, Marietta! Bear my advice in mind, and be a sensible woman."

The train steamed off, and he called a taxi, telling the driver to head for Royal Cliff.

"Does she suspect anything?" he wondered, his thoughts reverting to the unfortunate cave incident. "If so, precautions must be taken—quickly. There's no time to lose!"

The "house warming" was in progress at Royal Cliff the following night, and no one was gayer among the guests than Lydia Harbrook.

She literally scintillated. In all the throng, there was but one person other than herself who knew the source of that amazing gaiety. Lydia hated the person for that knowledge, and the only check upon her triumph (for indeed she did achieve a social triumph, being surrounded by partners and made much of)—was the occasional clear, comprehending glance of her young hostess.

Yes, she hated Rosilyn Ridgeway, and would do her an ill turn if she could.

It made her all the angrier, too, that the girl had had it in her power to yield forgiveness for the insults Lydia had tried to heap upon her.

Then the discovery of the drug secret had—in saner moments—disconcerted Lydia vastly.

Would Rosilyn—despite her promises to the contrary—"give the show away?"

Lydia—in the other's place—would certainly have delighted in exposure.

No doubt Madame Rosilyn had some trump card up her sleeve! The grounds of the estate were exquisitely illuminated, and the outdoor swimming-pool looked lovely, with the colored lights playing upon the surface of the water.

It was Lydia Harbrook—leader in recklessness—who "dared" the others to a plunge, and—forsaking the ballroom for a period—slipped into an ultra-French swimming-suit and led the party to the pool.

Without consulting her hostess as to the propriety of all this, she commanded a couple of her swains to bring drinks—many and potent—to the raft that edged the water, and there officiated as a bar-maid, mixing weird concoctions that gave weird effects upon the consumers!

"Go easy, Lydia!" Landis admonished her once.

She was sitting on the raft with her legs trailing in the water, a couple of men in swimming-suits beside her, assisting her to dispense her beverages.

"Come on in! The water's fine!" she called out to him.

He shook his head.

Couples strolled about the pool, and then—encouraged by Lydia's example—others rigged up temporary bathing-suits and jumped into the water.

ARREST MADE IN MELLETT MURDER

TWO KILLED, ONE HURT IN BANDIT'S RAID ON GARY

Lone Bandit Slain In Pistol Duel With Policeman After Slaying Clerk—Officer Is Expected To Die

GARY, Ind., Sept. 3.—Two men were dead and a third was badly wounded as a result of a shooting during a lone bandit's raid on Gary business houses in the center of the city at midnight last night.

Harry Bolds, the bandit, who attempted to hold up business houses single handed, was killed in the embroglio after a pistol duel from taxi cab windows with Policeman Michael Flynn. Bolds had just killed Chester Costenbolder, a pool room clerk who had refused to open the safe in his office. Flynn was shot through the body. Physicians say he has no chance for recovery.

SENTENCE ALLEGED FIREBUG TO STATE HOSPITAL FOR LIFE

Man Arrested Near Here Is Adjudged To Be Insane

Mack Wooten, alias Fred Nowell alias Henry Nauss, alleged firebug, captured near Oldtown recently by Xenia police, must spend the remainder of his life in the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane.

The sentence was imposed Thursday by Judge Harry G. Gram of Clark County, following a hearing of lunacy charges brought against him by Prosecutor O. L. McKinney in an affidavit filed ten days ago.

Wooten is alleged to have been responsible for a number of fires in the rural section of Clark County.

His sentence followed a report of the medical examination conducted by two Clark County physicians and submitted to Judge Gram. Wooten was said in the report to be "mentally deficient and not responsible for his actions."

Wooten's arrest climaxed one of the most unusual cases in the history of the county as the fire damage he caused amounted to thousands of dollars it is estimated.

His capture was spectacular and followed a man-hunt conducted by the Clark County sheriff and a posse of 150 men through swamps north of Springfield.

His arrest was due to a tip furnished by a traveling salesman who noticed a man walking along the road tallied with descriptions printed in the newspapers.

Wooten is also charged with escaping from the Bagdad prison camp at the Alabama state penitentiary after serving ten years of a twenty-two year sentence for grand larceny. Alabama authorities were furnished with the man's description but no attempt was made to return him to that state to finish his term.

Wooten will be taken to Lima as soon as commitment papers can be prepared, it is said.

FIVE REMAIN IN OHIO PEN DEATH ROW

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—The present population in "Death row" at Ohio State Penitentiary today stood at five with three of them scheduled to be electrocuted during this month.

Emanuel Ross, Cleveland negro, is to die September 10; Harley Pence, Columbus, September 17, and James Lyons, Norwalk, September 21.

George Vargo, Painesville, who killed his landlady when she refused to cook some cabbage for his supper goes on his last "march" October 14 and David Atkins, Stark County negro, has been granted an indefinite stay of execution.

START PETITIONS TO REINSTATE MAN

MIDDLETOWN, O., Sept. 3.—A movement to have Arnold Skinner, recently discharged as state prohibition agent reinstated again was begun here today when petitions in his behalf were circulated.

Skinner was ousted by B. F. McDonald, state prohibition commissioner, after Governor Donahy had received reports of alleged "unjustifiable" raids on picnics.

Engaged

Sir Henry Thornton, head of the Canadian national railways, was reported engaged to Miss Martha Watriss, twenty-five, a New York society girl.

AUGUST VISITED BY HEAVY RAINS

The wettest August in years was reported by W. W. Neifert, Dayton observer, whose monthly summary shows 6.59 inches of rain fell during what is usually one of the driest months of the year.

Normal precipitation for August is 3.01 and this year's excess of 3.58 inches cut the accumulated deficiency since January 1 down to 1.03 inches.

Average temperature for the month was 75 although the mean high temperature was 82.3 and the mercury reached a high mark of 92 on August 11. Lowest temperature was 59 August 25. There were six clear days, sixteen partly cloudy, nine cloudy, fifteen on which .01 or more inches of precipitation occurred, the greatest precipitation in twenty-four hours being 2.02 inches August 16 and 17.

There were 22.2 hours of actual sunshine, a percentage of 54. Dense fog occurred August 22 and there were thunderstorms August 2, 3, 6, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 21, 23, 24 and 29.

TWO AVIATORS ARE REPORTED MISSING

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—No word has been received here today of two aviators, missing since yesterday while flying from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia for the national air races tomorrow.

The flyers, Lloyd Spearman and George Weis, left Pittsburgh Wednesday in single seater planes and were expected here yesterday. Rain and foggy weather was reported throughout the state and it was feared that the aviators were forced down in the same territory in which Lieut. Cyrus Bettis met his fate a week ago.

Walter Beach, captain of the "travel air" team which is to compete in the races, left the field here late yesterday in a heavy rain to search for the flyers.

BRITISH FIGHT U. S. RESERVATIONS

DOMINIONS LAUNCH ATTACK ON ARTICLE IN GENEVA DEBATE

Colonies War Despite England's Favor Of Provisions

GENEVA, Sept. 3.—The United States senate's world court reservations have come under fire of the British dominions with Sir George Foster of Canada and Sir Francis Bell of New Zealand as critics of the contested fifth article of the reservations.

The strongest attack came from the American continent rather than Europe as the conference of signatories of the statute of the permanent court of international justice, debated the article.

They were made despite England's warm support of the American reservations.

A possibility in the problem presented by the senate reservations has been advanced by foreign minister Osten Unden of Sweden. He declared that he couldn't see how it was possible to grant the United States the sweeping right requested in the fifth reservation but suggested that the conference itself make reservations, namely, acceptance of the United States' her to the court provided that the reservations did not cause trouble, but that should trouble develop, the signatures would withdraw acceptance of the United States.

In a caustic address, Sir George Foster demanded that the conference examine some actual consequences of accepting the fifth reservation.

He declared that it could not be overlooked that the United States, by legislation had enacted a mandatory act declaring that the Hague court should not deliver an advisory opinion without its consent.

This, he said, the league itself would not dream of doing. Sir George pictured the situation which would arise were the reservations accepted.

He said that it must then constantly be borne in mind that whenever the Hague court was asked to give an advisory opinion its first duty would be to ascertain whether the United States was interested.

This information he emphasized, was available only from the United States itself. If the reservation provided that the president could determine the matter of interest it would be a different matter, Sir George declared. But he pointed out that the court must get its answer not from some designated source, but from "the United States itself. Hence, he said, it must first be decided what constitutes the interest of the United States in this case. After the court had received its statement from the United States that it was interested he continued, the court did not have the right to decide whether the claim of the United States was just. He said that as a result of this reservation would mean the utmost delay which in certain cases would be fatal. He declared that the whole experience of the league demonstrated the necessity of quick decision and action.

Sir George expressed himself as willing to go to any extent necessary to assure the United States equally, even though nations without the league were carrying burdens and obligations which the United States did not carry. He said he was certain that if the United States found that it had asked more than equality the question could be discussed with the United States in man to man fashion and an adjustment could be reached.

SLEW GRANDMOTHER BECAUSE "TOLD TO"

LONDON, O., Sept. 3.—Paul Weese, 27 is to be arraigned here today charged with the first degree murder of Mrs. George Richards, 76, his grandmother, with whom he had been living most of his life. When asked why he committed the act he laconically replied repeatedly: "Oh, everybody told me to." Police believe the youth who has been regarded as feeble minded committed the crime during a sudden fit of insanity brooding over ill health.

EX-JURORS MEET

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—What was believed the first outing of its kind, was held here when 2,700 members attended the first annual reunion of the Franklin County Ex-Jurors Association. Mrs. Fry, Westerville, was elected president of the organization and Miss Jane Farmer, jury commissioner, was chosen secretary.

Take Taggart's Name From Book

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Tom Taggart, Democratic leader of Indiana today won his protest against the use of his name for that of a character depicted as a gambler in Edna Ferber's new novel, "Show Boat."

Nelson Doubleday, vice president of Doubleday, Page and Co., publishers, today said the fiction gambler's name would be changed in all subsequent editions of the novel. A $100,000 libel suit was threatened by Mr. Taggart unless the publishers deleted his name from future editions.

Mr. Taggart was informed of the publishers' compliance with his demand.

mand, Mr. Doubleday said. A name having the same number of letters as the one originally used for the character will be substituted.

"This business of using true names in fiction is bad stuff," said Mr. Doubleday. "The use of Mr. Taggart's name was purely incidental and was not essential to the story. Any other name will do just as well, and since Mr. Taggart objected, we were only too glad to make the change."

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 3.—Deletion of the name of Thomas

Taggart, Indiana, Democratic leader, from Edna Ferber's novel, "Show Boat," published by Doubleday, Page and Co., may not be satisfactory to Mr. Taggart, according to Julius C. Ralston, of the Indianapolis law firm of Ralston, Gates, Lairy and Van Nuys.

Mr. Taggart, from French Lick, would not comment upon the New York publishers' willingness to delete his name until he conferred with his attorneys. He has demanded that three paragraphs be suppressed.

"The use of Mr. Taggart's name in the book linking him with gambling houses was aggravated by the publishers' release to the press of details of our correspondence," Mr. Ralston said. It is his belief that Mr. Taggart will institute his threatened suit for $100,000.

Frederick Van Nuys, one of Taggart's legal advisers, said litigation against the Women's Home Companion and the Crowell Publishing Company, the magazine publishers, will be contemplated if it is found that the publication has also printed the objectionable portion of the Ferber story. The story has been running serially in the magazine.

YOUTH CAPTURED BY POLICE AFTER CASH DRAWER IS ROBBED

Recover Most of $56 Stolen From Xenia Grocery

A colored "boy bandit" was captured by Motorcycle Policeman Peter Shagin early Friday morning several hours after he had robbed the Robb and Porden grocery, 649 E. Main St., of $56 in cash.

The boy registered at Police Headquarters as Clifford Lee, aged 12, E. Main St. His case has been transferred to Juvenile Court where a juvenile delinquency charge may be pressed against him Friday.

The grocery robbery took place at 6:30 a. m. The boy is said to have walked into the store on the pretense of being a customer and declared he wished to purchase ten cents worth of cakes.

While Raymond Borden, one of the proprietors vanished around a counter to get the cakes, the boy is said to have scooped up a roll of bills and change from a hidden money drawer showing previous knowledge of its location.

When the proprietor returned Lee paid him with a part of the money he had stolen and left.

Borden discovered the theft when he deposited the dime in the cash drawer. The drawer was empty save for a $1 bill which the boy had overlooked.

The youth's arrest came shortly after Borden had notified Motorcycle Policeman Shagin of his loss. Inquiry revealed the fact Lee had come down town to purchase a hammer.

Shagin recovered the greater portion of the money Lee had hidden at the house of a friend, but $2 is still unaccounted for.

PHILADELPHIA IS AWAITING FIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—This city today was experiencing the lull that comes before the storm—the storm being due in about ten days when the vanguard of fight fans, officials, contractors and others come in preparation for the Dempsey-Tunney fight, September 23.

Ticket selling continued at a leisurely rate. Although ringside seats were sold out, there were plenty of seats left for those who want them fifty or sixty rows back. No large crowds thronged the fight headquarters as when Tex Rickard first established himself here.

Railroads prepared for a huge influx of visitors. The Pennsylvania railroad has announced that it will run ten or twelve special trains from New York City alone.

Ticket speculators have not made their appearance to any alarming degree.

BRIDE DIES WHILE HUBBY SEEKS WORK

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Sept. 3.—Clarence Smith left his 16-year-old bride here ten days ago to look for work in Pittsburgh, explaining he would send for her as soon as he found employment. Smith found a job and sent a card to his wife telling her of his good fortune and asked her to come to Pittsburgh.

But Mrs. Smith had suddenly been stricken with peritonitis and died soon after her husband left. It was not until the card arrived here that he was informed of the tragedy. His whereabouts had been unknown.

TOY BALLOON DANGEROUS

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—When some one touched a lighted match to his toy balloon, Jerome Appel, Urbana, state fair visitor, suffered burns on his face caused by explosion of the gas in the bag.

Robbery, Kiss and Capture

Eleanor Sweet and John Martin were held up and robbed by James Murray (inset), sixteen, in a New York park. Charmed by the girl, the bandit kissed her and returned her valuables. "I hope to meet you again," he said. He did—at a police station.

AMERICAN INTERESTS GUARDED BY WAR SHIPS AT NICARAGUA

Marines and Blue Jackets Occupy Blufflands As Neutral Zone—U. S. Remains Out Of Dispute

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(UP)—With the arrival this morning of the U. S. S. Rochester at Bluefields, Nicaragua, American interests will be doubly guarded when government troops and revolutionists battle for control of El Bluff, across the harbor.

The city of Bluefields was declared a neutral zone several days ago by the U. S. S. Galveston and is now occupied by marines and blue jackets. The United States, however is taking no part in the dispute but is protecting interests of American citizens.

An additional 500 marines and blue jackets will be held in readiness by the Rochester should the fighting spread, the navy department said this morning. Skirmishing is reported to have started already in the vicinity of El Bluff.

Several hundred Americans are said to live in and near Bluefields and have large property holdings. No deaths have been reported in that vicinity but two Americans are believed to have been killed at Brangan's Bluff, 120 miles up the coast.

After two weeks of fighting, revolutionists are said to be in control of the northeastern coast. Their immediate objective is El Bluff, the point which overlooks the harbor of Bluefields.

Quiet prevails on the west coast according to official reports, after the engagement at Cosqueguen in which more than a hundred were killed and an equal number injured. The U. S. Tulsa which has been stationed on the west coast is conveying the wounded to relief stations at Corinto.

Cook quoted statistics to show that many children are not getting a "fair chance in life."

John W. Ranney, Columbus, was elected secretary of the state organization, winning over Harry Hale, Newark.

James Cooper, Newark, was elected vice president.

Miss Sylvia Joselen, Toledo, carried off the honors in the "Miss Ohio" beauty contest winning the title over nine others.

Miss Estelle Rogers, Sandusky, was second.

Others competing were: Misses Irene Lawhead, Lorain; Edith Scott, Cleveland; Aileen Elan, Newark; Hetty Belle Fall, Kent; Edna Casey, Canton; Katherine Chaney, Lima; Helen Eckenroth, Cincinnati; and Celeste Dueth, Lakewood.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 3.—As three Selfridge Field pursuit planes cruised in tribute over the body of Lieut. Cyrus K. Bettis of the 95th aerial squadron arrived here today by train from Washington, and left by motor hearse for his former home in Port Huron, Mich.

THREE EXECUTED BY STATE FOR POMEROY MURDER FOR MONEY

Notorious Slayers Walk Calmly To Death In Chair

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—Pomeroy's three notorious slayers went to the electric chair with as little concern and with the same contempt for life as they exhibited in their brutal murder of James McCumber, Pomeroy farmer.

John Bryant, negro, and Richard Rhoades and John Hedrick, both white, died as they killed—without fear—with actual nonchalance.

They valued their own lives, apparently, hardly more than that of their victim, McCumber, for whose death Rhoades and Hedrick received $15 each from Bryant.

Each walked calmly to the chair last night and the executioners working methodically completed their grim task in thirty-one minutes.

Bryant was first to go. He walked steadily into the blinding light of the little yellow death room which was crowded, three deep with witnesses. Bryant looked straight at the chair and never quavered. As the straps were being adjusted he mumbled a short prayer. He entered the room at 8:16 and at 8:25 after one application of the current was pronounced dead. The body was removed from the room in a basket and Rhoades was brought in.

Rhoades entered the room with a brisk step and seated himself in the chair with iron nerve. Asked to lean back so the straps might be adjusted, he said "yes sir." Rhoades coolly watched the guards adjust the straps. Six and one half minutes later after one application of the current he was pronounced dead.

Hedrick, brought in to the room at 8:41 p. m., experienced a little stage fright when he saw the gaping witnesses. He glanced nervously about the room as if he did not know how to act his part. Fear, however, was not written in his face. Finally, recognizing Sheriff Harry Rice he said: "Hello, the Sheriff."

Just before the black mask was placed over his face he addressed the witnesses: "Folks I want you to know that what I said about this case was the truth." (Hedrick had contended that Rhoades fired the shot that killed McCumber).

Six minutes later, after one application Hedrick was pronounced dead.

The three bodies were then conveyed out of the penitentiary where three hearse were waiting to receive them.

The triple electrocution, the first in the state's history, was carried out quietly, with precision and without a hitch in the entire program.

SMITH REFUSES TO QUIT SENATE RACE

AURORA, Ill., Sept. 3.—A blunt refusal to withdraw from the race for the U. S. senate was Frank L. Smith's Republican nominee's answer to a call to quit the race last night. Smith's representative, Attorney General Carlstrom of Illinois, made the announcement of Smith's stand at the central states fair here.

Pressure had been brought to bear on Smith to have him withdraw following revelations of large gifts to his campaign fund by utility interests brought out in senatorial primary campaign fund inquiry.

Carlstrom blamed the primary scandal on "a Democratic senator whose aim it was to strengthen the chances of the Democratic nominee."

REPEAT MARRIAGE ALLIANCE, O., Sept. 3.—With the Friends Church at Damascus, filled to capacity, the Rev. and Mrs. John Pennington repeated the Quaker ceremony by which they were married sixty years ago.

VALENTINO PASSES

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 3.—A Lake Shore limited train bearing the body of Rudolph Valentino pulled into the union station here at 8:30 a. m. today. Except for a small group, mostly Italians, there was no unusual crowd on the platform. No demonstration of mourning was made.

REPEAT MARRIAGE ALLIANCE, O., Sept. 3.—With the Friends Church at Damascus, filled to capacity, the Rev. and Mrs. John Pennington repeated the Quaker ceremony by which they were married sixty years ago.

CHARGE MASSILLON BUSINESS MAN WITH PUBLISHER'S DEATH

Alleged Bootlegger Arrested Friday By Canton Deputy

MASSILLON, O., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Ben Rudner, Massillon hardware dealer, and alleged bootleg king was arrested here this morning on a charge of murder in connection with the killing of Don Mellett. Rudner was arrested at his hardware store at 10:45 a. m., by Deputy L. S. Gibson, Canton.

Rudner is the second charged with murder in the Mellett case, Louis Masser, the other, both were involved in the murder conspiracy by testimony of Steve Koschak, a friend of Patrick McDermott, fugitive witness.

CANTON, O., Sept. 3.—The Stark county grand jury considering the Don R. Mellett murder case adjourned this morning after a brief session to reconvene at 1 p. m., when it is expected to return indictments against three men.

Ben Rudner, Massillon bootlegger, arrested on a charge of murder was locked up in Stark county jail at 11:15 this morning. He had been taken into custody by a deputy sheriff a short time before at Massillon.

TWO TRY CHANNEL; THIRD GIVES UP

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Sept. 3.—Mona MacClaren and Horace Carey, both of Folkestone, England, started swimming the English channel at 5:10 a. m. today. Two and one-half hours later, they were two and a half miles off shore. The weather was unsettled.

Both are comparatively unknown. Their efforts were made unannounced and unheralded. The woman swimmer refused to be photographed.

Miss MacClaren is a physician and Carey is a well known British swimmer.

DIRIGIBLE SAFE AT ILLINOIS HANGAR

SCOTT FIELD, BELLEVILLE, Ill., Sept. 3.—Successfully weathering heavy storms over most of the route the TC-5, semi-rigid army dirigible arrived at the army hangars here at 6 a. m. today from Langley Field, Va.

Two stops were made on the flight. One at Dayton, O. for fueling and another forced landing near Washington, C. H. O.

From Dayton westward the blimp was in storm territory during most of the trip. At no time, however, was the ship in danger, the pilots said upon arrival. The ship maintained a flying speed of fifty miles an hour.

TWO RAILROADERS KILLED BY WRECK

CUMBERLAND, Md., Sept. 3.—Two railway men were killed and two were injured in a collision between a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train en route from New York to Chicago and a freight train near Foley, Pa., last night. As far as is known here, no passengers were injured.

The accident occurred shortly after 11 o'clock. A wrecking train was sent from Cumberland.

The dead men are Wilkie Collins, engineer of the passenger train and R. L. Albright, fireman. A fireman and a brakeman of the freight train were uninjured.

NAZARENE CHURCH TO START CAMPAIGN TO SOLICIT $5,000

A campaign of personal solicitation of Xenia business houses by authorized solicitors of the Church of the Nazarene, Orange and Bellbrook Ave., in the initial effort to raise $5,000 with which to reduce the church indebtedness, will be begun next week under the personal direction of the Rev. F. H. Landgrabe, pastor.

Part of the purchase price was paid off at the time the building was bought but a heavy debt still rests upon the shoulders of the congregation, according to the pastor, who solicits the co-operation of Xenians in the financial drive.

It is planned to have business houses visited personally by authorized solicitors. Then a house to house canvass will be made. Envelopes will be left with an explanation of the purpose of the campaign and a request that contributions be placed in the envelopes, which will be collected the following day. Each solicitor will be supplied with credentials signed by church officials.

Special services at the church every night of next week will officially launch the drive. The Rev. Mr. Landgrabe will have charge of the services Sunday.

According to the plan for the week, the Rev. W. R. Gilley, Dayton, pastor of the First Church there, will preach Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The Rev. C. A. Gibson, Columbus, district superintendent, will be present.

ent Thursday night and have charge of the services for the remainder of the week, closing with a final rally at the church on Sunday.

Xenia's Church of the Nazarene was organized in September, 1918. The congregation met for worship in various rented buildings until June, 1922 when the present church edifice was purchased from the United Presbyterian Church.

It was originally erected by the U. P. Church for a mission in charge of students of the Xenia Theological Seminary. Shortly after the Seminary was moved away from Xenia, the church building was sold to the Church of the Nazarene.

At that time the Rev. Frank Watkin, now pastor of the First Church at Marion, O., was the minister. He resigned September 1, 1924 to accept the pastorate of the Marion church and was followed in the pulpit by the Rev. W. R. Gilley, who supplied the pastorate until May 1, 1925, when the present pastor, the Rev. Mr. Landgrabe, was called.

TO ADDRESS EAGLES ON DRIVE OPENING

Inaugurating a new membership drive to be waged by Xenia Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles during the next two months, LeDru Layton, Springfield, worthy vice president of the state order of the lodge, will appear in Xenia to address members of the local Aerie at a meeting of the order Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Layton will confine his remarks to helpful suggestions to make the drive successful and on the importance of such campaigns.

The Aerie roster now shows 260 members and it is hoped to boost this membership to 360 by October 27, when the campaign comes to a close.

All members of the Aerie are urged to attend the meeting Friday night.

ELECTION BOARD TO ORGANIZE SOON

Board of elections will hold its first meeting since the August primary election, some time next week, according to Earl Short, clerk of the board.

Petitions of candidacy of three men for Common Pleas Court judge, part petitions in support of the movement to repeal the Ohio primary law, the county ticket entered by the Prohibition party and the state ticket entered by the Socialist party are among important matters to be considered.

If approved, the petitions will be certified to Thad H. Brown, secretary of state.

Other important business may be transacted in preparation for the regular election November 2.

RECTOR RESIGNS

NEWARK, O., Sept. 3.—Rev. Lewis P. Franklin, who for the past twenty-one years has been rector of Trinity Episcopal Church here, has resigned his pastorate of the church effective October 15. The vestry accepted his resignation at a meeting last evening.

Mrs. Minnie Moorman, S. Detroit St., is recuperating, after being confined to her home several days.

THORNE FOR JUDGE

Lawyer George H. Thorne, of Spring Valley, Ohio, is an independent candidate for Common Pleas Judge of Greene County.

He is a native of Bellbrook, sixty years of age, and has had a wide and varied legal experience. Going to Colorado early in life, when the boys were told to "go west and grow up with the country," he became a lawyer. After years of practice, and seven years as Assistant Attorney General of the state, he was elected judge. When Wilson became President he appointed him Assistant Attorney General of the United States at Washington, D. C., which office he held with distinction for eight years.

However, he made his home in Greene County in 1913. In 1918 he was the Democratic candidate for Congress in this district, and secured the largest vote ever received by a Democrat. He was executive secretary to Governor Donahay for a year or so, until he engaged in the practice of law at Dayton. He lives in Spring Valley going to his Dayton law office each day.

With superior legal training and experience, with fine poise and a judicial mind, it is admitted Judge Thorne is admirably fitted for the office of Common Pleas Judge.

His friends urge that it is time for a change in Greene County. That Mr. Thorne, a man of good character, well qualified, free from the influences of factional strife, should receive the favorable consideration of the good citizens of Greene County and be elected Judge of our highest court.

C. A. COLLERS, Chairman Thorne for Judge Committee.

Little Fred Jackson, W. Second St., had the end of one of his toes severed when he stepped on a broken bottle, a few days ago. He is under the care of a physician.

Mrs. Lizia Peak, 105 E. Second St., fractured three ribs and received severe bruises to her arm, when she fell down a flight of stairs, Wednesday. Her injuries are not serious and she is recovering.

Mrs. Clarence McKinney, W. Second St., has been ill several days with Summer grip, but is recuperating.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for forty-seven years, it seemed almost that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty cils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never grips, sickens or upsets the most delicate system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it. Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself. —Adv.

Labor Day--A Holiday From Work!

Nearly everyone you know when approached on the subject explains with deep throated tones, with bloated chest about the "Dignity of LABOR." NO one will confess to being lazy, disliking work or being AGAINST work! Yet it's my PRIVATE opinion that just about ALL of us are KIDDIN' ourselves.

Look at the HISTORY of work! Originally it was brought into the garden of Eden by a low minded snake! Look what it did to poor ole Adam! Then time went bustin' along and WORK was popular and fashionable ONLY among slaves and prisoners of war!

Then so MANY people got to picking out this particular World to live in that SOMEONE had to do some work besides slaves and a real strong effort was made to make Work popular. But for a long spell WORK was still looked on with plenty of suspicion--in fact it's only been the last half dozen generations that WORK became a fad!

But NOW days you're all outta luck if you ACKNOWLEDGE you even SUSPICION WORK! You're an outcast! You don't BELONG!

The only really SENSIBLE thing I see about WORK is the way they CELEBRATE LABOR DAY! You're not supposed to WORK! ON THAT DAY! DOC SAYRE.

GO HOME CHILDREN

From now we may expect a sudden decrease of crime in Chicago.

Probably murders, hold ups, bank robberies, beer running and gang wars will cease as if by magic, or at least become almost negligible in numbers.

What is the reason for this expected metamorphosis?

Three thousand stalwart policemen, in nice blue uniforms, doubtless with loaded revolvers in easily accessible holsters, have been turned loose on the streets with strict orders to see that all children are at home by ten o'clock each evening.

The second city in size of the nation, the leading city of the world in crime, has passed a curfew law. It has found out that paths of iniquity suddenly open at ten o'clock each night to those persons who are not yet sixteen years of age.

The city which brought up Loeb and Leopold, who staged their crime before ten o'clock at night, has decided to protect its young folk in future.

And so three thousand policemen will watch carefully for all persons under 16 and send them home if they are on the streets unaccompanied by adults after ten o'clock each night. For a second offense the parents will be fined and the children sent to juvenile court.

This will mean perhaps, hunger and hardships for the parents and the creating of bitterness and ruining of life for the young persons.

But what does that matter as long as the law is upheld? Chicago must be very proud of the way it upholds laws.

In fact it must be exceedingly proud, even perfectly confident of this upholding. Otherwise it would take some of the policemen who are watching for offenses against the curfew law and assign them to arresting any gunmen or bad characters who might perchance arrive in the Illinois metropolis from some 'tough' country town.

Now that the children will be off the streets at night there will be more room for such gunmen to roam the city, and of course the nice gentle gangsters will be able to blaze away at each other, at policemen (those who are not busy escorting children home) and at pedestrians, with their usual indiscriminate and without fear of hitting any young persons.

Doubtless the world is looking at Chicago today in a different frame of mind to hitherto. Perhaps it lifts its hat in praise for the great reform movement which the 'Windy City' has started.

Civilization can point with pride to Chicago and say 'Look what that great city is doing to stamp out vice and crime. And the children will not be in danger of getting murdered, kidnaped, attacked, and tortured for more than 16 hours per day.'

—OF— New York

By Jack O'Donnell

The butterfly room at the museum of Natural History was full of people. But they were all concentrated in a ring over at one corner of the room.

"Must be something exceptional," I thought, "to attract everyone away from these gorgeous cases."

I stepped over and joined the ring. There, in the middle, was an electrician, waiting at a little hole in the floor for a wire to appear.

The crust of centuries was forming, unmoored, on New York's hide. Buildings were acquiring a pleasant dark coat of cosmic tau—the result of many days and nights of sun and wind and dust and smoke. And then a great snake was let loose in New York. It is attacking this hide. Twenty inches in diameter. Three hundred feet in length. It's the sandblaster's snake, the tube through which sand and air are carried up from the street to clean the walls of edifices. Buildings that were deep brown yesterday are white today, and the centuries will soon be forgotten.

Everywhere in New York, in the back alleys, on the riverfront, along Broadway in the glare of lights, are human shadows. Watchers of the trails. Men and women employed to shadow other men and women report their actions.

.....

A clubman steps from a bronze doorway into a waiting limousine. Around the corner swings a taxi, weaves into the traffic, and follows. A crook shuffles out of a joint in the Bowery. From a nearby news stand, a man steps quietly out and follows, a block behind. Lights and shadows.

.....

and we can bring rewards and profit to others—if they use us right. Just like the new broom with its stick. But after much use we become worn and stubby, like the broom and then are cast off for something fresh and more efficient.

But it is enough to know that we have rendered service and done it well.

The new broom, they say sweeps well. And so does the man with a new idea attract attention and rise high in favor.

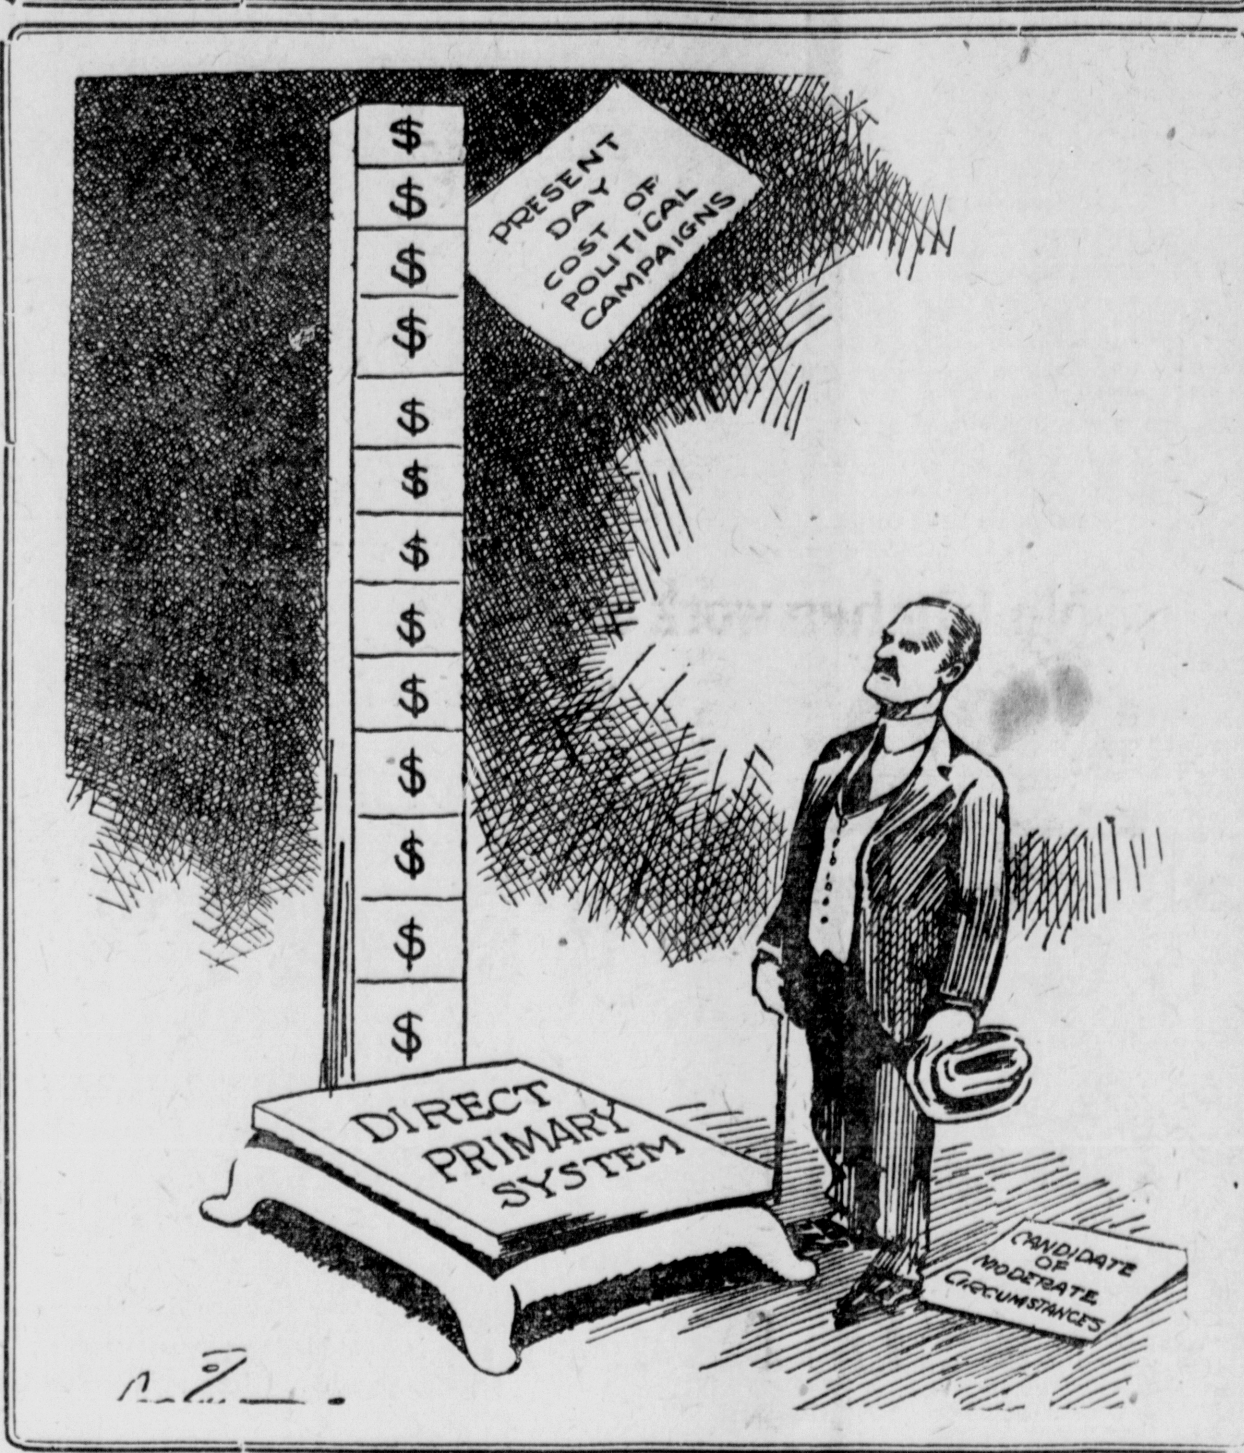

And it isn't worth worrying about as to what our end shall be so long as we do good service and accomplish something while yet we are strong and able. We can safely let posterity dispute our standing.

RECEIPTS SLUMP

Receipts at the Xenia Postoffice slumped slightly during August in comparison with the corresponding month in the preceding year, it is shown in the monthly financial statement prepared by Postmaster C. S. Frazer.

Receipts during August, 1926, amounted to $3,486.93 and in the same month in 1925 the total was $3,820.26, a decline of $333.33 for the period.

REQUESTED PICKLING RECIPES

Cucumber Pickles: Requires fifty medium-sized cucumbers, salt, two tablespoons of white mustard seed, one peck of white onions, two tablespoons each of celery seed and peppercorns, one-half cup of olive oil and cider vinegar. Slice the cucumbers and place them in a crock sprinkled generously with salt. Let stand three or four hours, then drain off the liquid which has collected. Mix together the mustard seed, celery seed, peppercorns and olive oil. Slice the onions. Arrange the cucumbers and onions in alternate layers in a crock with occasional layers of spices, then add vinegar to cover. A small lump of alum (about as large as a hickory nut) dissolved in a little of the vinegar used will harden the cucumbers.

Grape Relish: Three and one-half pounds of grapes (wild grapes are best), one and one-half pounds of granulated sugar, three-fourths of a teaspoon of ground cinnamon, one-third teaspoon each of ground cloves and allspice, one-half cup of vinegar and one-half cup of water. Wash and stem the grapes, place in a double boiler and cook till the skins pop. Now remove skins and press the pulp through a sieve fine enough to hold the seeds back. Put skins with water in a saucepan and boil till tender; add the strained pulp to these cooked skins then also

BOUNDARIES

First limits of Greene County were much more extensive than they are today.

There is, however, so much geographical ambiguity in the section describing the original boundaries of the county that it is almost impossible to determine with any degree of certainty the limits of the county as set forth by this section.

The difficulty in defining these original limits arises from the fact that the farmers of the section described the bounds not by township, range and section lines, neither by natural features, but their delineation depended entirely upon the counties previously established, Ross and Hamilton.

First it is necessary to determine the limits of Montgomery County which was erected at the same time as Greene; secondly the limits of Ross County, extent of which was vague, would have to be determined. In fact the only definite line of the county at that time was its northern boundary, the state line. Eastern and western limits of this north line of the county were not determined by the section four of the act which created the four counties, Greene, Montgomery, Warren and Butler.

Moreover, while the section specifically states that the northern boundary of Greene County was the state line, it follows that the framers of the section did not take into consideration the Greenville Treaty line of 1795, for the legislature, as a matter of fact had not right to reorganize counties out of territory to which the Indians had not then relinquished their title. It follows then that the limits of the county in 1803 could not have extended farther north than the Greenville Treaty line.

Clears away itching rash in two days

Uses Resinol now for all kinds of skin ills

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 4.—"On July 20, 1917, just before I was called to service in France, I was advised by my druggist to use Resinol Ointment for a rash which I had on my arm. It relieved the itching and the rash was gone in two days. Later I cured two friends of mine who were suffering from some kind of skin trouble. We all agreed that it was 100% stuff for anything like a breaking out."

While in France I had a bunch of boils that nothing seemed to cure until I had the doctor fix the little place up (after a treatment with a knife) with Resinol. Needless to say, I soon lost all my boils and from that time on I became the outfit's boil and pimple doctor.

Since coming home I have used a great many jars of Resinol and I swear by it. Every little cut or immediate application of Resinol. It is a wonderful, non-equalled ointment." (Signed) Chas. T. Sweet, Jr., 3015 So. 7th St.

The Theatre

With the closing of numerous theaters, cabarets and night clubs, because of the warm weather, throwing many musicians, dancers and actors out of work, the American Aid Society of Paris has been overrun lately by stranded theatrical artists who are unable to find positions of any kind.

Many of these American performers are absolutely broke and the aid Society is confronted with a serious problem, as its limited resources enable it to aid only a small number of the most needy and most deserving applicants. Out of about 3,000 who applied for help in the last year, the organization could assist only 150. Contracts made in the United States are not legal in France, and musicians and other artists have no redress in case their contract is not lived up to by the parties responsible for taking them over.

An offer of $50,000 for an engagement of ten weeks at the Columbia Theater, burlesque house New York, operated by the Columbia Amusement Co., has been made to Gertrude Ederle, English Channel swimmer, who returned this week. The offer, presented Miss Ederle by Jack Linder, for and on behalf of Dave Marion and the Columbia Amusement Co., follows offers for other theatrical engagements at less salary which had been made by Keith-Albee, George White and William Morris. Beginning Oct. 1, Miss Ederle would do two shows daily in a special act with diving girls.

Sissle and Blake, the famous team of Broadway stars, will be the headliners in the benefit dance and "Midnight" Show to be staged at Memorial Hall, Columbus, Friday, Sept. 10. The dance and show are for the benefit of Mrs. Walker, mother of the late George Walker, who was a member of the famous team of Williams and Walker. There will be two orchestras. The performance is under auspices of the Ohio Reunion Association of Ex-Service men, according to W. C. T. Ayres, former Xenian, secretary.

Four musical comedy stars—Walter Catlett, Charles Winninger, Oscar Shaw and Ralph Sipperly are now acting in Fox photoplays. Shaw will be remembered by Xenians for his performance and singing in "The Music Box Revue" in Dayton, last Winter.

Rain Cheats Reds As Cardinals Win Two

Hopes of the Cardinals to bring a National League pennant to St. Louis for the first time in thirty-seven years, were given additional impetus when Hornsby's boys took both ends of a double-header from the Chicago Cubs Thursday while the Pittsburgh-Cincinnati contest was terminated by rain after three and one-half innings of play.

The twin victory over the fourth-place Cubs enabled St. Louis to extend its lead over the Reds to two full games with the Pirates still in third place, three full games behind the pacemaker.

Chicago dropped further back in fourth place and is now seven and one-half games behind the leader. No fooling, the Cardinals are presenting their most serious threat to win the bunting in the last quarter of a century. The team has been going at a wonderful clip with a record of six straight victories over Pittsburgh and Chicago.

From now on the schedule favors St. Louis. The club's showing in these two series against two of its principal Western contenders has been a delightful revelation to St. Louis fans.

Those who presented claims that the Cardinals lacked pluck, dash and courage and determination and would "crack" as usual in the pinch, were made to eat "crow" because if ever a team has shown its real ability under trying conditions it has been the Hornsby clan.

Now comes the serious battle for first place between Cincinnati and St. Louis at the former's park. The two clubs open a three-game series Friday, unless rain again intervenes, and the final test of strength is at hand.

The Reds have generally been poison to the Cardinals this year but unless the team takes at least two games its championship aspirations will receive a rude jolt. The final Eastern trip is also at hand and the Reds have proven a notoriously poor road club this season. St. Louis, on the other hand, is at its best away from home.

Cincinnati was disappointed Thursday in its hope to gain a half game on the league leaders and a full game on the Pirates when rain brought a halt to the conflict with Pittsburgh in the fourth inning with the home team ahead 3 to 0.

Pittsburgh, its lineup patched up, is slipping rapidly and is no longer seriously considered as a flag contender. When the final history of the race is written, a chapter may be saved for the Pirates in which an appropriate inscription would be "Killed by double-headers."

Twin bills have ruined the Pirates pitching staff. It has been a tough break but the Smoky City gang is not yet out of the woods and has six more double-headers in the next nine playing days. The staff will be unable to stand such an enormous strain.

BUSINESS MEN BEAT SCOUTS IN CONTEST FOR SOFT BALL TITLE

Hyman Pitches His Team To Victory With Good Support

Junior Business Men's Club repulsed the initial thrust at its title of city soft ball champions in a convincing manner by defeating the Boy Scouts decisively in a return contest 21 to 5 Thursday night at Cox Memorial Athletic Field.

The winners scored all of their runs in four innings, nine in the first, seven in the third, two in the fifth and three more in the seventh.

Leadoff Hyman occupied the mound for the business men and had only one or two bad innings. Gibney twirled for the Scouts and the older team had little difficulty in producing runs from his offerings.

The J. B. M. C. soft ball team is now open to challenges.

"Not Possible To Classify"

By Mack Sauer

MEOW! MEOW!

Last night about three a. m. I found myself sitting up in bed. At first I thought my baby was crying. My second thought was that I would have to take it out and park it in the garage for the rest of the night, so that I could sleep. My third thought brought to mind the fact that we didn't have any baby at all.

Suffering cats! Howling cats! There was weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth from the back porch below my window. I had six shotgun shells in the house, but was afraid I would be arrested for shooting off fireworks within the city limits should I fire at the night howlers.

I finally thought of the tea kettle. I decided to shampoo the kitten whiskers with boiling cistern water. So I stumbled downstairs, lighted the lantern, put wood in the kitchen stove pumped a bucket of water, put the water on the fire and sat down to wait for steam to raise. The water was about as slow as congress in getting warmed up, but I refused to yield until it was hot.

On reaching the upstairs window I found a screen pre-vented my throwing the teakettle and all at the cats, so I dashed the water through it, letting the drops fall where they might. The cats shook themselves and walked slowly away to the front porch of a neighbor, where they tuned up on an- other mournful melody.

Now came a yelp from the bed and I found that I had placed the hot tea kettle on the covers just over my wife's feet. Her wailing was as bad as that of the cats, which by that time were back directly under my window trying to cry, louder than my poor aching wife.

My, what a night!

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Sunday School Lessons

GOLDEN TEXT: Jehovah spoke unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh to his friend. Ex. 33:11.

TIME: Autumn of B. C. 1493, the first year after the Exodus.

PLACE: The Israelites were still in the Sinai region, with their main encampment still in the plain of Er Rahah, but scattered out through the neighboring valleys.

PRINTED LESSON TEXT: Exodus, 33:7-16.

INTRODUCTION: This Mount Sinai was the main encampment place, in the long journey of the Israelites, between Egypt and Canaan, not in point of years spent here for that was only for one year, while the journey spread over forty years, yet the most important events of the entire period took place during the one year spent here. The apex of these events was the giving of the law, by Jehovah to Moses, for the people, then follows the shaping of the people from the loose, unorganized mass to the highly systematized nation. Moses received many divine instructions from Jehovah for the people and the one that we study today is regarding the tent of meeting.

1. A PLACE OF WORSHIP: While religion is to be carried into our every day lives and be a part of us, yet we must have a definite place of worship, apart from our busy and nervous business connections. It was a place, a place of worship, where Moses met and chatted with God, this "tent of meeting." Nature, truly, is God's temple, yet He expects you and I to have a definite place in which to worship Him, in this spirit of friendship. We realize full well that God is in Nature and is everywhere yet our finest things are greatly strengthened and assisted by visible and material things, and means. When we think back over the years of his story, we realize that man provided homes for his loved ones and thus we can expect it to be necessary and best that the fine spirit and relation of life, religion, needs the same definite place and means. We do need the church which is our tent of meeting, where we can meet and talk with God to best of advantage. If we rely on talking with him at our offices and homes entirely we will find that there are too many things that take our minds off our meeting with Him. Worshipping God everywhere will in time become nowhere. We should respect and appreciate the House of God and be joyful. "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go unto the House of Jehovah." Psalm 122:1.

2. REVERENCE: As Moses approached the tent of the meeting, all the people rose up, and stood, every man at his tent door, and looked after Moses, until he was gone into the Tent. The tent, house of worship, was the real center of the camp, even as the church is the recognized center of genuine and sincere spiritual, beneficial, and influential force today, over each community. Before our minds eye we should ever hold that vision of the lifting influence and guiding force of the House of God, as we plan and enact our social and business life as well as our religious life, and activities. We truly live in two separate worlds, material and spiritual, but they are complementary to each other and God and his principles must be the fiber and sinew that holds all forces together in both now as well as then. A menacing and seriously defective spirit that has crept into our American lives is that of irreverence. We must fight this terrible force if we expect to reach and enjoy that which is higher and better in life. "Put off thy shoes, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground." Ex. 3:5.

3. A SIGN AND GOD'S VOICE: After Moses went into the tent God sent a cloud down to stand before the door and He spoke to Moses. We read of clouds and God's speaking to His servants down through the ages and even now each cloud has a message. It is God's method of conveying something by a cloud yet He always speaks what He expects of us and that which is best for us. These clouds never leave us in doubt but appear as road signs for us in this material and complicated life. He that heareth him hath heard the Father, and in following His directions we follow the light and power of life and do not follow the clouds of darkness.

4. OUR HUMAN WEAKNESS AND NEED OF A GUIDE: Moses was that power, guided by God, that led the great number out of Egypt, and made the whole of the Egyptians dread him, and even Pharaoh to bow at his feet, so to speak, yet now we find that Moses, rightly, feels his responsibility to God and His people, and asks for God to "show me thy ways." The higher our station in life the more natural it is for us to feel our humility before God and His teachings. God is for us to feel our humility before God and His teachings. God does not speak to us suddenly today yet if we follow His word and the life of Jesus Christ, His son, we can easily learn and follow His wishes.

5. EVER PRESENT: Even as Moses, we must realize that God is everywhere. "My presence shall go with Thee."

RESOLVE

To keep my health.
To do my work.
To live.
To see to it I grow and gain and give.
Never to look behind me for an hour.
To wait in weakness, and to walk in power.
But always fronting onward to the light.
Always and always facing toward the right.
Robbed, starved, defeated, fallen, wide astray.
On, with what strength I have.
Back to the way.—C. P. Gilman.
My business is not to remake myself.

But to make the absolute best of what God made.—R. Browning.
Prudence does not consist in evasion, or in flight, but in courage. He who wishes to walk in with any sincerity, must screw himself up to resolution. Let him the most peaceful parts of life front the object of worst apprehension, and so stoutness will commonly make his fear groundless.—Emerson.

HE JUST PLAYED BALL.
That little figure caught my eye. I found myself watching Tony for half an hour. He was of Italian ancestry, and as American as the game that he was playing. He was twelve years old but ten in size. The point was that all of him, was in the game, every ounce of him, including his head. That man who weighs three times as much as he often pines into it. He was a catcher who did not let one by; he threw to second like an arrow; he was captain of nine much smaller and younger than the nine against him. Under Tony's training and eye his nine had team play. He was a silent little commander, but when he spoke he meant business. No yapping against a decision of the umpire. Tony's nine just played ball. He was cool in a pinch. Twice he stole bases; nabbed in a third attempt, he grinned good-naturedly. He brought in two runs with a two-bagger. I stayed right on until his nine had won the game. Some day he may be in a major league team, or may be governor or president.

This made me think of prenatal care and child care and all that we can do for child welfare to make as many like Tony as we can. I am sure that there are a lot of Tonys in the nine competing in the Junior World Series, and a nine that is composed entirely of Tonys ought to have a good chance of winning the pennant in Philadelphia.

Then they came and bowed to the ground before the great man whom they had last seen as a weeping boy, bound on the saddle pack of an Ishmaelite camel, but of this they could not know, nor did they remember the dream of one sheaf bowing before another or stars doing homage to another. But the years had not wrought such a change on the man as the boy, and Joseph knew his brethren at once, and as they bowed before him, he remembered his boyish dreams and saw them come true. Nevertheless, there was no malice in his heart towards them, but only kindness; yet he wished to prove them and to see if they were the same evil men whom he had known as a boy. Therefore, he spoke sharply to them accused them of being spies; and when they denied it, and said that they were all brethren, and had one brother still left in Canaan, he said: "By the life of Pharaoh you shall not leave this place till I have tested thy word." For in his heart he longed to see Benjamin once more, and took this plan to bring him down to Egypt. So he put them up and took in prison three days; but on the third day he called them to him, and said: "Go, I make it easier for you, because I fear God. You shall go home with the corn you need. Only one of you shall stay here in prison till you come back with your youngest brother, and so prove your words."

Now when they saw all this trouble come upon them so suddenly, conscience awoke, and they reproached themselves. "This has come to us," they said, "because we were so cruel to our brother Joseph, and would not listen to his prayer for mercy." And Reuben said: "Did not I tell you not to sin against the child? Yet you would not listen; so now his blood is required by you." All this Joseph heard as he stood by, but they knew not that he understood their speech, for he had spoken to them in Egyptian, and his words had been translated by an interpreter. And when he heard it, Joseph's heart was full, and he had to leave their presence. He chose his elder brother Simeon to stay in prison, and sent the rest away. Their sacks were filled with corn, and he had given secret orders that their money should be put back again, along with the corn, in the mouths of the sacks.

So the brethren went on their way; but when they came to the first resting place, and one of them opened the sack of feed, to feed his ass, behold there was his money in his sack's mouth. Then they were all perplexed and anxious to what this might mean. However, they went back to Jacob and told him all that had happened to them, and how Simeon had been left as a pledge for the coming of Benjamin, and how the money of one of them had been put back into his sack. But when they opened the rest of the sacks, lo, it was the same with all of them. Then Jacob was greatly afraid. "Thy journey has been an unlucky one," he said.

BRIEFLY TOLD

Thermometers are being extensively used by fishing fleets. Cod and haddock usually exist in waters where the temperature averages between forty and fifty degrees.

Visitors to the Wayside Inn on one day in July represented twenty-seven states and five foreign countries—England, Germany, Japan, Canada, and Belgium.

Fog horns that automatically begin to blow whenever a thick mist gathers are being used more and more. Action of the damp air on calcium carbide sets the device in motion.

A bootlegger arrested in Toledo, was in the habit of spraying his customers with perfume to counteract the odor on their breath.

EAST END CHURCHES

Esler Allen is spending the week at Columbus, attending the State Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Mullen, Union City, were guests over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Mullen.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stephens, Parker, Ind., who attended the Harness reunion here, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fudge.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Shirk, Cincinnati, will be here Saturday as guests over Sunday and Labor Day of Mr. Shirk's parents, Mr. and John Shirk.

Mrs. Otis Carter, who has been seriously ill for some time, is improving slowly.

YELLOW SPRINGS RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. George Bickett, 73, formerly of Xenia, passed away at her home in Yellow Springs, Friday morning at 6 o'clock. Death was caused by gangrene and diabetes, resulting from a fractured hip received several months ago. Mrs. Bickett had been bedfast five months.

She was born in Greene County and would have reached her seventy-fourth birthday September 9. She spent practically all of her life in this county, and moved to Yellow Springs from Xenia, where the family lived for some time, twelve years ago. Mr. Bickett preceded his wife in death in 1914.

Four children survive: Arnold and Earl Bickett, at home; Mrs. W. J. Chapman, Galveston, Tex.; and Leroy M. Bickett, Watertown, Wis., with two sisters, Mrs. Clint Manor, Xenia and Mrs. George Jenkins, Jamestown.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced. Mrs. Bickett was a member of First U. P. Church, this city.

PENNSY TAKES OFF TRAINS ON SUNDAY

Two east and west-bound accommodation trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad, which have been operated every day including Sunday, have been taken off on Sundays, according to I. F. Emory, passenger agent here.

The accommodation for Columbus at 8:55 a. m. railroad time and the Cincinnati-bound accommodation at 9:41 a. m. railroad time, are affected by the new order. Both will be daily except Sunday the order becoming effective Sunday, September 5th.

The Gilded Rose

By May Christie

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY:

ROSILYN RIDGEWAY learns on her wedding day from idle gossip that she has been married for her money. Before her enormous fortune was left her, she had been an over-worked little drudge in her father's inn.

LANDIS RIDGEWAY, her husband is a brilliant, fascinating man, who was forced into the marriage by his mother. Rosilyn, loving her husband, knows he is still in love with LYDIA HARBROOK, a beautiful, cold society girl who is bent on marrying.

STEVIE VAN VORST, a wealthy old roue, although she is really fond of Ridgeway.

RUPERT BRISCOE, a dissipated man of the world, has seen Rosilyn but once, and yet is deeply interested in her. Lydia learns of this interest, and she and Briscoe concoct a plot whereby Rosilyn and Briscoe will see a great deal of each other, and Lydia will have a chance to exert her wiles upon Landis. The plan works, and Landis, finding himself often alone with Lydia, falls under her spell once more.

Van Vorst, however, hungering for her love, decides to use MARIETTA FERNANDEZ, a dancer and sweetheart of Briscoe's in connection with a scheme. These two come to New York where Marietta begins to vamp Landis away from Lydia, leaving a clear field for the elderly schemer.

In the country at the Ridgeway place, Rosilyn, in a fever of jealousy and anxiety over the protracted disappearance of her husband seeks the solace of the countryside. After an exciting adventure she is rescued by Briscoe who tells a "fishy" story to account for his proximity to the scene. Soon after Landis effects a reconciliation with Rosilyn and becomes his old lovable self. The latter discovers damning evidence against Lydia and exerts her power to secure the upper hand—in the city meanwhile Marietta feels her power over Briscoe declining.

Torn by jealousy, Marietta surreptitiously sees Rosilyn and makes an ambiguous declaration of love.

Walking away the dancer stumbles into an underground passage where she finds Briscoe surrounded by incriminating evidence. The latter suspects treachery.

CHAPTER 63
In The Pool

Briscoe eyed her sharply in the dim-lit cave. It occurred to him that she wasn't lying, and relief caught him, so that his grip on Marietta's shoulders loosened.

fool, not even yours!"

"But Steve Van Vorst is nothing to me. He never was, and never will be!"

Briscoe's lip curled cynically. "Then you're stupider than I take you for, that's all. You ought to make hay while the sun shines, m'dear—because, frankly, I haven't got the time to devote to you, nor yet the money— and Steve Van Vorst has both. You go ahead and play your cards well and I wish you luck!"

She was silent as he, bought her ticket, and put her on the train.

"Bye-bye, Marietta! Bear my advice in mind, and be a sensible woman."

The train steamed off, and he called a taxi, telling the driver to head for Royal Cliff.

"Does she suspect anything?" he wondered, his thoughts reverting to the unfortunate cave incident. "If so, precautions must be taken—quickly. There's no time to lose!"

Would Rosilyn—despite her promises to the contrary—give the show away?

Lydia—in the other's place—would certainly have delighted in exposure.

No doubt Madame Rosilyn had some trump card up her sleeve! The grounds of the estate were exquisitely illuminated, and the outdoor swimming-pool looked lovely, with the colored lights playing upon the surface of the water.

It was Lydia Harbrook—leader in recklessness—who "dared" the others to a plunge, and—forsaking the ballroom for a period—slipped into an ultra-French swimming-suit and led the party to the pool.

Without consulting her hostess as to the propriety of all this, she commanded a couple of her swains to bring drinks—many and potent—to the raft that edged the water, and there officiated as a bar-maid, mixing weird concoctions that gave weird effects upon the consumers!

"Go easy, Lydia!" Landis admonished her once.

She was sitting on the raft with her legs trailing in the water, a couple of men in swimming-suits beside her, assisting her to dispense her beverages.

"Come on in! The water's fine!" she called out to him.

He shook his head.

Couples strolled about the pool, and then—encouraged by Lydia's example—others rigged up temporary bathing-suits and jumped into the water.

GAS BUGGIES or HEM AND AMY—Virtus Is Its Own Reward

THE CHECKS MADE OUT FOR EXACTLY THE AMOUNT OF STOCK I BOUGHT IN PETRIFIED GAS ITS FROM HEM, ALL RIGHT. THAT BROKER'S SIGNATURE IS JUST A BLIND. BUT HOW DID HEM RAISE THE DOUGH? THAT'S THE MYSTERY. BLANCHE.

MYSTERY, MY EYE. IT JUST PROVES I WAS RIGHT WHEN I SAID HEM WAS IN CAHOOTS WITH ALEC SMART. HE'S GOT HIS SHARE SALTED AWAY. THAT LETTER YOU SENT HIM THREATENING A SUIT DID THE WORK. YOU SHOULD'VE DEMANDED INTEREST ON YOUR MONEY WHILE YOU WERE AT IT, EDWARD PLOP.

I DIDN'T NOTICE WHO SIGNED THE CHECK, I WAS IN SUCH A HURRY TO CASH IT. WE SHOULD WORRY. COME ON, HORACE. LET'S GO. PUGET SOUND WILL LOOK GOOD TO ME.

I DON'T GET HIM. FIRST HE CLAIMS HE'S BROKE. HE EVEN LET THEM CART OFF HIS FURNITURE. NOW WE GET A CHECK HE'S TOO DEEP FOR ME, HATTIE.

IT DIDN'T TAKE HIM LONG TO DIG UP THE DOUGH AFTER HE GOT OUR LETTER.

WELL! WE'VE GOT HIS NUMBER. HE AND ALEC SMART ARE PALS.

SENDING THE CHECKS THROUGH A BROKER IS GOOD. HEM MUST THINK WE'RE ABOUT 4 YEARS OLD.

LET HIM GO. WE GOT OUR DOUGH BACK.
